THE WEATHER

Pittsburgh reached a temperature of 83 yesterday, making the afternoon well-fitted to mate with its immediate predecessors. With it came a humidity in the 70's, which added no small part to the discomfort. There was no rain yesterday, but the forecast sent out last evening from Washington calls for rain both today and tomorrow. The sun rose cloudy at 4:56 and set cloudy at 7:55. SIGNAL HONOR PAID A HERO

The Body of Paul Jones Turned Over to Special Ambassadors.

UNIQUE OCCASION

Distinguished Representatives of French Government Take Part.

AN IMPRESSIVE PROCESSION

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, July 6.—In the presence of the highest dignitaries of France, the diplomatic representatives of many foreign governments and civil and naval officials of the United States, the body of Admiral John Paul Jones was today formally delivered to the United States government. The ceremony was one combining impressive dignity with brilliant military and naval pomp, in which the soldiers and sailors of France and the sailors of America united in rendering honors to the illustrious founder of the American navy. The occasion was unique and probably without parallel, as the funeral was that of a revolutionary hero who had lain neglected in a foreign grave for over a hundred years. Seldom has an event awakened such widespread interest in the French capital.

The ceremony of delivering the body was held in the American church on the Avenue de l'Alma at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The interior of this gothic edifice was beautifully decorated with plants and flowers. At the foot of the chancel rested the casket wrapped in an American flag and literally buried in masses of floral emblems. The French government had taken charge of the arrangements, and huissiers of the foreign office, wearing impressive silver chains, acted as ushers.

At the right of the altar sat Ambassador McCormick, Senior Special Ambassador Porter, Junior Special Ambassador Loomis, United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Rear Admiral Sigsbee and other officers of the American squadron. Across the aisle sat Premier Rouvier with other members of his cabinet, practically the entire diplomatic corps and officers of the army and navy. The members of the diplomatic corps were in full uniform. Scores of American sailors in the navy on either side of the altar gave a fitting background to the imposing scene.

After brief religious services Gen. Porter, with the red sash of the grand cross of the Legion of Honor across his breast, advanced alongside the casket and formally delivered the body to Mr. Loomis, as the representative of the United States government, who accepted it in the name of the government, and commissioned Admiral Sigsbee to transport it to the United States.

As the surpliced choir took up "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," the entire assemblage rose and joined in the strains of the patriotic hymn. Eight brawny sailors from the Brooklyn then stepped forward and, raising the casket on their shoulders, bore it slowly from the church to the waiting gun carriage. This was draped with the national colors and was drawn by six black horses.

The cortege was now formed and proceeded along the Avenue de l'Alma, the Champs Elysees, across the Alexander bridge to the Esplanade des Invalides.

Heading the procession came a squadron of cuirassiers, stretching from curb to curb, with a division of infantry under Gen. Frey. After them rumbled the gun caisson bearing the flower-laden coffin with guards of American sailors on either side. The appearance of the detachment of 500 American sailors and marines was the signal for enthusiasm all along the line.

Arriving at the Esplanade des Invalides, an imposing picture was presented. The French government had erected a large pavilion in which to deposit the coffin. The casket was deposited in the center of the pavilion, while the cortege passed, rendering military honors. Later it was borne to the Invalides railroad station and placed in a funeral car, where, guarded by French and American sailors, it started for Cherbourg at 10 o'clock tonight.

TWO SMALL BOYS KILLED WHILE HUNTING FATHER

Mother Had Sent Little Chaps Out to Look for Him, and He Arrives as Their Bodies Are Brought Home.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

PROCTOR, W. VA., July 6.—Elinn and Lindsay, sons of Seymour Walker, aged 6 and 8 years, respectively, were ground to death on the Ohio River railroad tracks today while in search of their father, who had been absent from home since July 4.

Mrs. Walker became alarmed on account of the absence of her husband and sent the two boys to a point up the river where she thought he might be found. They carried a lunch with them which their mother had prepared, and stopped at the Dry Run trestle to eat it. They started across the trestle when a passenger train approached from behind and the boys started to run. A curve obscured the engineer's view of the trestle and it was too late to stop the train.

When the dead bodies were carried back to the Walker home the father had returned with the explanation that he had been in search of employment.

More than 2,000 chefs, stewards, restaurant men and hotel keepers are interested in the movement, which has for its object pure food for the public, natural methods in cookery and [illegible] ways of serving food.

THEODOSIA SHELLED

London Is Advised That Kniaz Potemkine Is Bombarding City.

MUTINEERS ARE REINFORCED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ODESSA, July 6.—11:59 p. m.—It is reported that the battleship Kniaz Potemkine has been blown up near Theodosia.

LONDON, July 7.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Odessa says that it is reported there that the Kniaz Potemkine is bombarding Theodosia; that the town is burning, and that the soldiers of the garrison are engaged in looting. He says it is also reported that another torpedo boat has joined the mutineers.

ODESSA, July 6.—8:21 p. m.—The Kniaz Potemkine still occupies the center of the stage here. The authorities are well informed about her movements and her operations. But as the opinion prevails here that she will not return to menace Odessa, the Odessians view her doings interestedly, but not coupled with any particular alarm.

The fact that the Kniaz Potemkine is still at large, cruising in the Black sea, threatening ports and holding up steamers and other craft is beginning to bring criticism upon the naval authorities, owing to their apparent slowness and lack of energy in pursuing and terminating her piratical career.

The torpedo boats which, it is reported, are trailing the Kniaz Potemkine have done nothing, although the whereabouts of the battleship has never been out of reach of the fleet which left here yesterday, and which is popularly supposed to be following the renegade for the purpose of effecting her surrender or sinking her. If the fleet is in earnest it can easily meet the Kniaz Potemkine within a comparatively few hours.

Fear More Mutiny.

The belief is general, however, and there is general confirmation of it, that the main difficulty confronting the fleet regarding the Kniaz Potemkine lies in the fact that the crews of the ships are strongly disinclined to engage the mutinous battleship. It is reported on good authority that these crews have actually refused to attack her.

In the meantime commerce on the Black sea is being slowly resumed, and coastwise and other steamers are clearing from Odessa on their former schedules.

Odessa is resuming its normal life and the theaters and other public places are reopening, while street life is about the same as usual. There is a strong undercurrent of uneasiness, however, and further disorders are expected sooner or later. Just at present the reign of military law and the recollection of the recent lesson are acting as strong deterrents to unruly persons. The police are active in making arrests and in deporting suspected persons. House-to-house searches are frequent, and they have resulted in the finding of a number of bombs. It is believed that practically all the Jews are armed.

Present conditions are proving a serious detriment to business here. The port shows fair activity and the factories are resuming, but not a business man is coming to Odessa and the hotels are almost empty. The lack of confidence is widespread and trade is very dull.

People Fleeing from City.

THEODOSIA, CRIMEA, July 6.—The inhabitants are leaving the town in compliance with the orders of the authorities, who fear that the mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkine will carry out their threat to open fire on Theodosia. Only troops and officials remain here.

This morning a boat from the Kniaz Potemkine was sent ashore and was met by an infantry fire which killed two men and caused seven to jump overboard. The torpedo boat, in the hands of the mutineers, fired a shell which passed over the town and the Kniaz Potemkine and the torpedo boat left the port, but continued to maneuver in sight of the town. Theodosia has been declared to be in a state of war.

MRS. JOHN LIMEGROVER IS BENT ON SUICIDE

Allegheny Business Man's Wife Tries to Throw Herself Into Ocean at Atlantic City.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 6.—Mrs. John Limegrover, wife of a business man of Allegheny, attempted to throw herself into the ocean from the end of Young's pier this evening, and was saved only after a sharp tussle with three men.

The woman had climbed over the rail when her rescuers reached her, and fought furiously to break their hold. When brought back to the city with the aid of a dozen men who saw the tussle from the boardwalk and ran out to help, the woman was completely prostrated and had to be carried to her hotel. She is prostrated from shock and has made no statement regarding her reasons for the act.

Mrs. Limegrover came here for her health several days ago suffering from an attack of nervousness. She was extremely irritable and after a discussion with a relative here with her at dinner tonight, said: "I am going out and you will not see me again."

The husband has been wired for and the woman is being kept under strict surveillance until his arrival. It is supposed she had been brooding over the deaths of two other women who have ended their lives by jumping from the pier during the past month.

[John Limegrover, Jr., is a liquor dealer at 107 West Ohio street, Allegheny. A call was made at the place this morning but nobody responded.]

SHOT THROUGH HEART AND MAY RECOVER

ST. GEORGE, July 6.—(Special.)—Harry Nowak, who was accidentally shot through the heart with his own pistol on Tuesday morning, while trying to wrest it from Max Taecher on the ferryboat Castleton, is still alive at St. Vincent hospital at West New Brighton. The bullet has been located by mens of the X-ray just above his heart. It entered his left breast, passed through his heart and lodged to one side.

The case is a puzzle to the surgeons at the hospital, and doctors from all parts have come to see Nowak and examine him. He is expected to recover.

BRINGS ATLANTIC CITY TO PITTSBURGH'S DOOR

Half-Million-Dollar Company Formed to Build Park Here With Lake and Cooling Surf of Beach. To Have Immense Amphitheater.

The largest artificial swimming pool in the world, built to represent the Atlantic ocean beach, with a perpetual surf coming in—such is the most interesting feature of a new park which will be built for Pittsburgh. A company with a capital of $500,000, of which amount $80,000 was paid in, was formed by six Pittsburghers and two out-of-town financiers last night. A Pennsylvania charter will be applied for. The incorporation papers for the company will probably be forwarded to the state department at Harrisburg today or tomorrow.

Of the $80,000, a pro rata amount, $80,000, was paid in by six well-known Pittsburgh men, each of whom gave his check for $10,000.

The corporation is to be known as the New York Park Construction Company, whose headquarters will likely be in Pittsburgh. While it is the intention to build parks all over the country, the company's first work will be on a large park within or adjacent to Pittsburgh.

Three options on adaptable properties have been taken by those promoting the matter and these are in or convenient to Pittsburgh. One of the properties is a large farm on which there is a natural lake 3,000 feet long. The interested men inspected this property yesterday. No information was given for the public regarding the sites or the persons back of the projected company and Pittsburgh park, except that one of the prime movers is the well-known amusement promoter, F. M. Kattenstroth of New York.

After the formality of the company's organization last night the men discussed features for the park, among which was the Atlantic beach representation, which is accomplished by a patented device. Other features include an immense amphitheater, seating from 3,000 to 4,000 persons. From 1,000 to 2,000 of the seats will be free, while a small fee will be charged for the better seats.

WEDDED A SCION OF ENGLISH NOBILITY

Marriage of Mrs. Dodge to Hon. Lionel George Guest of Local Interest.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 6.—(Special.)—A notable event of international interest here today was the marriage at high noon of Mrs. Flora Bigelow Dodge, formerly of New York, and the Hon. Lionel George Guest, a scion of the English nobility. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. N. Hutchinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. The bride is a member of the Episcopal church, but owing to the attitude of her church on the question of remarriage of divorced persons, she decided to secure the services of a clergyman of another church. The marriage took place in the cottage which the bride purchased soon after her arrival in Sioux Falls, about three years ago.

Among the guests were United States Senator A. B. Kittridge, Mrs. Joseph Leiter of Chicago and Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart, recently of New York city, but now a resident of Sioux Falls. John Bigelow, father of the bride, who recently returned from France, had intended to be present at the wedding, but owing to his advanced age, 87, and the fatigue of the journey from New York to Sioux Falls, he was telegraphed not to come to Sioux Falls.

The bridegroom is engaged in business at Montreal. Mr. Guest is the fourth son of Lord Wimborne. He is a first cousin of the duke of Marlborough, duke of Roxborough and Winston Churchill. His mother was one of the famous Churchill sisters. His brother, the Hon. Frederick Guest, was recently married to Miss Amy Phipps.

The two had not met for 35 years, yet Mr. Carnes knew Mr. Gee at once. The latter was on his way to the Pacific coast and had only a short time in which to visit between arrival and departure of trains.

CANAL POLICY IS CHANGED

Life on Isthmus Is First to Be Made Healthful and Comfortable.

IS PRIME REQUISITE

Moving of Dirt Must Wait Until Sanitary Conditions Are Established, Says Shonts.

WAGES ARE BEING INCREASED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Life on the isthmus of Panama is to be made healthful, comfortable and enjoyable before the real work of digging the canal is begun, according to the announcement of policy made today by Chairman Shonts of the Panama canal commission. Mr. Shonts said:

Our first duty is to create sound underlying conditions. This is now vastly more important than moving dirt. The men must have suitable houses in healthful surroundings; they must have wholesome and nourishing food, at reasonable cost; they must have suitable transportation facilities to get to and from their work, and they must have opportunity for recreation.

Will Conceal Nothing.

It will be the policy of the commission to provide these essentials as quickly as possible, and to increase the working force, aside from the mechanics necessary to provide these necessities, only as fast as the facilities indicated can be furnished. The commission realizes its adherence to this policy will result in the actual handling of less quantities of material temporarily, but it also knows that, with healthy underlying conditions, vastly more will be accomplished later on at less cost and with less friction.

It will also be the invariable policy of the commission to give to the public the actual conditions as they exist on the isthmus without any attempt either to color or conceal. So much of an exaggerated character has been said by the press about health conditions there that it may be wise to recapitulate the facts regarding yellow fever.

There have been between 3,000 and 10,000 employes on the isthmus since the disease first appeared in May. In that month 30 canal employes were stricken, and two deaths resulted. In June, 39 canal employes were stricken and four deaths occurred, two of those dying being Americans, appointed in the United States, and two persons appointed locally on the isthmus. There were also three cases of fever among employes of the Panama Railroad Company and no deaths. During the month of July, up to the 4th, there have been no new cases and there is but one employe under treatment.

As an evidence of the consideration the creation of health conditions is now receiving it may be well to state that 17½ per cent of the total number of employes are assigned to that work under Gov. Magoon.

Wages Are Increased.

In regard to the wages paid and the statements that so many men have left because of reduction in salaries, the fact is that wages, instead of having been reduced, have been very considerably increased in every branch of the service on the isthmus during the life of the present commission. It will be the fixed practice of the commission, as far as practicable, to fill the higher and more desirable positions by the promotion of deserving employes.

The entrance, or beginner's, salary for clerical positions, such as bookkeepers, stenographers, typewriters, etc., is $1,200 per annum, and for draughtsmen from $1,200 to $1,800. The wages received in the outdoor railroad positions are from 30 to 35 per cent higher than those paid in the United States, being in general for switch engineers, $125; engine foremen, $100; helpers, $75; track foremen, $80 to $100, and supervisors $150 to $175 per month. All the mechanical tradesmen, such as carpenters, blacksmiths, machinists, etc., receive 16 cents per hour. In addition, all employes are furnished quarters or allowed 15 per cent increase in pay in lieu thereof, and are given six weeks' leave of absence per year on full pay.

To Investigate Work Done.

As to the amount of work actually done, complete reports have not yet been received at this office, although the acting chief engineer cables same have been sent. But in order to know exactly what has been done and what the actual condition of work now is, the commission has sent two of its engineering members to the isthmus to make a personal examination of the ground and formal report.

A cablegram received from Gov. Magoon today reports no additional cases of yellow fever and no deaths, and but one case under treatment on the isthmus of Panama.

Will Reorganize Engineering Corps.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—John F. Stevens, the recently appointed chief engineer of the Panama canal commission, today telegraphed Chairman Shonts that he was much improved in health and would reach Washington the latter part of the week. Before going to the isthmus Mr. Stevens will organize the engineering corps for work there. The many vacancies in this corps requires practically the selection of an entire staff.

MR. ROOT TO HEAD CABINET

Persuaded to Leave Great Law Practice for the State Portfolio.

PRESIDENTIAL "BEE"

Sacrifice Is Thought to Have Been Made Because of the Higher Aspirations.

A MASTER OF LARGE AFFAIRS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 30, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, July 6.

Elihu Root of New York will go into the cabinet as the secretary of state, succeeding the late John Hay. It is assumed here that Mr. Root has the presidential "bee."

Few persons familiar with President Roosevelt and Mr. Root believed that the president could accomplish this task of getting Mr. Root into his cabinet again. In doing it he has performed the greatest argumentative work of his career. He has apparently simply talked Mr. Root into taking the position, using as an argument that he owed it as a duty to the public to make the sacrifice which the acceptance of the position would involve.

For Mr. Root, in going back into the cabinet, is making a monetary sacrifice far greater than that which he made when, at the request of President McKinley, he became secretary of war. Mr. Root at that time was generally understood to be making the largest legal income in the city of New York. It had been estimated as high as $150,000 a year. But since Mr. Root returned to private life, his earnings have increased enormously. He has simply been overrun with persons who sought to employ his services, and were willing to pay almost any figure in order to obtain them. A member of the cabinet recently said that Mr. Root was making at least $275,000 a year.

Is a Lavish Entertainer.

This is what he has sacrificed for a paltry $8,000 in Washington, to say nothing of a possible presidential candidacy and social obligations and a method of living which will probably require an expenditure of from $50,000 to $60,000 a year. While secretary of war Mr. Root entertained with a lavish liberality.

The president felt that Mr. Root was the only man who could measure up to the high standard of the work of the late secretary of state. He might have been satisfied with Secretary of War Taft, but the secretary of war is now on his way to the Philippines to be gone all summer, and while he has been performing the duties of secretary of state he has really been greatly overworked. The task before him as secretary of war is a herculean one in itself. He not only has to try to settle definitely the status of the Filipinos, on the one side of the world, but put through the Panama canal on the other.

It is said there will be other changes in the cabinet. Secretary Shaw will retire before many months and there may be another shift.

The general impression of politicians in Washington is that since Mr. Root is going into the cabinet he has decided to become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1908. It is figured out that he can get the vote of New York, and with the administration behind him it is assumed that he will become a very formidable candidate.

A Formidable Aspirant.

Those familiar with the situation consider that it is not reasonable to believe that Mr. Root after once resigning the official position and resuming the practice of law would throw it all over to go short a time and return to Washington at the head of the state department merely to oblige his friend, Theodore Roosevelt, and to fulfill his conception of the duty of an American citizen.

It is this, then, that makes the return of Mr. Root at this time of more than ordinary interest. It is this that has given every presidential aspirant whose name has been coupled even casually with the magic figures "1908" the worst sort of cold chills. And they do not deceive themselves. They remember the remarkable eulogy paid Elihu Root by President Roosevelt, when his secretary of war retired to private life less than two years ago; they observe the manner in which the president urged the portfolio of state upon Mr. Root, and they entertain no delusion as to what the chief executive's influence will be upon the delegates to the 1908 convention.

BOTANISTS HAVE STRENUOUS DAY

Big Rattlesnakes Make Things Exciting in Flora Search at Ohio Pyle.

A FARMER BARS HIS GATE

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM JOHN F. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

OHIO PYLE, PA., July 6.—In defiance of the venomous rattlesnake, the irate farmer and the relentless watchdog, Pittsburgh botanists today invaded the wooded glades of the Youghiogheny and scaled the precipitous slopes of Chestnut ridge, bringing away some of the rarest specimens of Pennsylvania flora. The rattler was conquered in his den, and two giant serpents were carried off alive by the triumphant scientists. The success of the botanizing excursion means that some brand new species of the vegetable kingdom have been secured for the botanical section of the Carnegie museum of Pittsburgh.

A period of exciting events was this "Pittsburgh day" in the botanical symposium which has been going on all week here within the sound of the picturesque cataract of the Youghiogheny. With distinguished members of the Biological society of Washington, D. C., the Botanical club of Philadelphia and the Torrey Botanical club of New York, enthusiasts from the Botanical society of Western Pennsylvania spent a profitable and delightful day in the wilds of the Alleghenies. Some rare specimens which never before have been in such a northern latitude were discovered growing luxuriantly amid the great boulders which nature has tossed about this romantic landscape.

Mushroom Evening Is Held.

Preparations for the observance of Pittsburgh day were made last night at the close of the "mushroom evening." Up from Pittsburgh came a party composed of a number of notable local botanists. There was William Falconer, president of the Western Pennsylvania society; Judge John D. Shafer, Miss Anna M. Deens, botanist of the Fifth Avenue High school; Miss Jennie Gosser, botanist of the Central High school; Miss Grace E. Kinzer of the botanical department of the Carnegie museum; Prof. D. R. Sumstine of Kittanning, and Prof. B. H. Patterson, beside many amateurs who are no less enthusiastic. Councilman J. J. Booth of the Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh, who knows the history of every plant in the Schenley park conservatories; Henry M. Negley, Miss Jane Davis, Miss Charlotte M. Steinert, Miss Cara Reese, Miss Elizabeth F. Schellenberg, F. Z. Schellenberg, Miss Jeannie Falconer, the daughter of President Falconer, who is making progress in following the scientific footsteps of her father, was the youngest botanist that ever climbed the summits of Chestnut ridge, and came away with some odd specimens of the "quadrofolium reguns." This is a big name, but, after all, it is only the botanical term for four-leaved clover. Miss Falconer was making it a holiday.

All plans had been laid for the day's campaign when one timid lady rose to ask if the rattlesnakes "would really bite." Dr. F. A. Shafer of the New York City Botanical gardens said he could (estify to the aggressiveness of the Ohio Pyle snakes, and a shudder ran through the crowd. Then 'Squire Morrison, Ohio Pyle's oldest citizen, was called on for information. He made a speech telling of the dreaded rattler and his habits, and spoke at some length of the antidotes for snakebite, remarking incidentally, that while Ohio Pyle is a local option town, he supposed scientific searchers would be prepared for emergencies in case some inhospitable serpent should sink its fangs into any of the party.

Virginia Reel is Danced.

Then the gossamer was lifted from the piano, the buckwagon which was housed on the dancing pavilion of the Rainer hotel was pushed aside, and the scientists enjoyed an impromptu dance of the Virginia reel, and the games of pig-in-the-parlor, Tommy Tucker and ring-around-a-rosy. It limbered everybody up for the strenuous climbing of the morrow.

The botanists were up this morning before the sun. Councilman Booth tucked his trousers inside his boots and the word "forward march," was given. Now it happens that not far from the hotel is a very pretty flower garden which has been the envy of every specimen-hunter in Ohio Pyle's visiting list. The procession marched directly for this house and espied some very beautiful white poppies blooming before the door. Mr. Falconer and Mr. Negley were in advance, and charged directly toward the front gate, Mr. Negley shouting in ecstacy: "Papaver somniferum!" Papaver somniferum!" (This is merely the Latin name of the flower).

The gate was tied with a rope. Finding the entrance barred, the explorers invaded a vacant lot beside the dwelling and marched up toward the backyard, where the master of the house and his wife were busy around a kettle making blackberry jam. Mr. Negley was still enthusing over "Papaver somniferum." Miss Deens was glorifying the edible mushroom known as "Polypolus sulphureus," and Prof. Sumstine was giving his ideas of "Poria medalla-panis." Mr. Falconer asked for the privilege of entering the yard to examine the flowers at closer range, but the modest country folk, after hearing such a flow of scientific Latin phrases evidently supposed that their domain was being invaded by a bad lot of foreigners, and stated that permission "to look over the fence" probably was enough to ask.

Mr. Booth Makes Discovery.

When the excursionists reached the foothills they divided. Each sought his favorite specimens. And it was not surprising that they should scatter. In the party were phanerogamists, gatherers of flowering plants; mycologists, or "mushroom men"; bryologists, the moss hunters, and the algeaists, those who gather the lower forms of vegetable life. At the edge of the woods there was a sensation when Councilman Booth and Judge Shafer got their boots entangled in a low bush.

"Gaylussacia resinosa!" exclaimed Mr. Booth.

This was the technical way of saying that he had encountered a huckleberry bush.

All were enthusiastic, but the enthusiasm of some was not directed toward gathering rare things of the herbarium. There was the gallant youth who confined his efforts to scaling the jutting cliffs in search of the waxy rhododendron to be presented with all the effusiveness of a melancholy Jacques to the pretty girls of the party, while no less imbued with the spirit of the occasion were some of those other men who collected the fragrant mint tops to be used in the evening in the preparation of the refreshing mint julep. (And let it be known that the Ohio Pyle mint julep mixed with the clear, cold water from the mountain spring makes a something that rivals the famous boquet of the Kentucky variety.)

While climbing high up on the mountain side, Dr. Shafer encountered two vicious rattlers. He dexterously entrapped both and carried them off alive. Both were three feet in length and were beautifully marked. No more snakes were seen.

Thousand Specimens Found.

Dr. Shafer, Dr. W. A. Murrill of the New York Botanical gardens; Dr. R. L. Flicker of the division of botany of the United States department of agriculture, and Dr. Wenkler, the famous collector of mosses, tonight summed up the results of their researches and agreed that few portions of the country are so rich in rare specimens. Among the orchids three kinds of ladyslippers were found to be new in this locality. Two rare ferns, the pinnatipied spleenwort and the mountain spleenwort have been found. A showy marchalia of a purple pink tint caused much enthusiasm among the lovers of wild flowers and the plants found on the banks of the Youghiogheny are the most northern known. A mountain crowfoot was a good find from a botanical standpoint.

The Allegheny vine or climbing fumidory, a delicate-leafed, rapid climber, was a surprise because it was not known to exist in this region. The mycological section is proud of its discovery of a new species of the bracket fungus, which was found growing on the end of a hollow log. It has a bright orange color with a very fleshly context inside. It somewhat resembles the polypotus sulphurens.

At the close of the day Mr. Falconer and all the Pittsburghers were delighted with the rich botanical resources of the Youghiogheny valley, and it is probable that the flora of the region frequently will be explored. Miss Kinzer will prepare her specimens for the Carnegie museum. The entire collection made during the week exceeds 1,000 species.

TO ACCOUNT FOR WASTED FUNDS

This Is Object of Suit Being Brought by Senator Brackett Against Equitable.

ALSO DEMANDS REPAYMENT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, July 6.

Senator Edgar T. Brackett of Saratoga, N. Y., who was here today, when asked about the latest alleged disclosures and movements in regard to the Equitable Life Assurance Society, made the following statement:

In Mr. Young's action against the Equitable and its directors, I have asked for a full accounting by the directors for all the waste of its funds suffered by the society, and a payment into the treasury of the society of all sums that the accounting shall develop have been wasted. It covers every phase of the waste—both that where any director has himself actually taken money improperly, and that where the directors have negligently permitted anyone else to wrongfully take funds. I think it is comprehensive enough in its scope to include every claim as far back as the statutes of limitations will permit us to go.

The letter to Attorney General Mayer has nothing to do with this action brought by Mrs. Young, but was a request to him to see that no one was allowed to intrude himself into the position of a director of the society unless qualified by the ownership of five shares of the stock of the company, and if anyone does usurp such position of director without this qualification, that the attorney general take legal action to oust him and recover from him the penalty imposed by law, not exceeding $1,000.

It looks to me about this way: Mr. Ryan cannot use any of the trusteed stock to qualify directors, for the terms of the trust will not permit it. No other owner of stock will care to help him out by using his stock for qualifying purposes. But unless he gets enough persons qualified, there would not be directors enough to comply with the law, and a receiver must be appointed for that reason.

The only alternative that will save the situation, it would seem, will be an agreement by Mr. Ryan and the other stockholders that proper legislation being had, the company be allowed to retire the stock at a value to be fixed by an appraiser. This would so place matters that the policy holders could actually manage the society through such directors as they should elect, and be a true mutualization.

Of course, no mutualization is going to help much unless persistent attention be given to the business by the policy holders. The Mutual Life of New York, nominally mutual, are actually as far lacking in control by policy holders as has been the Equitable, and will remain so until the policy holders deem it worth their while to organize and give attention to the matter. One thing that should be done toward helping them is to provide a by-law that proxies shall be good for a period not exceeding six months from the date given, and that no officer of the company shall be allowed to hold a proxy.

SAYS BRACKETT IS IN PURSUIT OF EASY MONEY

Director Moffatt of the Equitable Declares He Has Complied With Every Legal Requirement.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

DENVER, COL., July 6.—"Senator Brackett of New York is in pursuit of easy money," said David H. Moffatt today when shown a telegram stating that nearly all the Equitable directors, including himself, were to be prosecuted. Mr. Brackett's charges are said to have been presented to District Attorney Jerome and by him to the grand jury.

"Leaving New York," continued Mr. Moffat, "I was served with a notice of Mr. Brackett's intentions and my lawyer advised me that the kicker was willing to make 'a settlement' if I desired to see him, which I failed to do. I was a stockholder of record in the Equitable, and as a director complied with every legal requirement. Whether my stock was in bank, as collateral, or in my vest pocket, makes no difference. I may have hypothecated or sold it since, neither of which circumstances can affect my action.

"It all comes of trying to help the company and some friends out of a hole. My efforts were aimed solely at settling the troubles of the Equitable. All I ever received was the directors' fee of $20 for each meeting, and I did not always get that."

WINDOWS ARE CLEANED FIRST TIME IN 34 YEARS

Unexpected Beauty and Much Improved Light Is Apparent in Trinity Episcopal Church.

According to the Trinity parish directory, the official paper of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, the memorial windows of the church have just been cleaned for the first time since the erection of the building 34 years ago.

As a result of the removing much of Pittsburgh's far-famed soot, an unexpected beauty stands revealed, while for the first time in years artificial light is unnecessary in the building during the day.

Contracts have been let for replacing the old stone walks in front of the church with granolithic pavements and the base of the church walls on the Sixth avenue side have been repaired. It is also proposed to recut and reset the church steps.

WOMEN MAY VOTE IN NEW RUSSIA

Project for Formation of Representative Assembly Provides for Universal Suffrage.

THE JEWS ARE DEBARRED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7.—The Novosti this morning prints what it claims is the actual text of the final draft of Minister of the Interior Bouligin's project for the formation of a representative assembly.

The question of the election of members to the lower house of the legislative assembly is settled not on the basis of property, but on that of the universal suffrage of men and women, the latter voting by proxy. The classes absolutely debarred are Jews, the nomadic races, persons not of Russian nationality, governors and other imperial and local administrators, and all persons connected with the police.

It is provided that the disability of the Jews shall only continue until their status shall have been defined by the popular assembly. Persons convicted of crime are also deprived of suffrage. The emperor possesses the right of absolute veto as well as the power to prorogue the assembly.

The presidents of the respective chambers are to be chosen by the emperor, and he will have the right to suspend the sittings. The interpellation of ministers will take place behind closed doors if reasons of state are pleaded. The national assembly will control the budget except in the case of permanent and national defense appropriations.

The Douma is divided into ten committees on finance, rural affairs, industry, education, clergy, administration of justice, war, marine, railroads and budget.

The emperor has received a telegram from the people of Tomsk, protesting against the address presented by Prince Troubetskoi and the other members of the deputation from the all-Russian zemstve congress. The demand declares that Russian Liberals will only be satisfied with a republic on the American model.

SAFETY AND PROFIT COMBINED

Hetty Green has wisely said, "Keep out of Wall street." The man who seeks an abnormal return on his investment is generally disappointed. The normal yield from an absolutely safe investment rarely exceeds Five per cent, and the Guaranteed Water Bonds now being marketed by the Municipal & Corporation Securities Company, Bank for Savings Building, City, should appeal very strongly to the careful investor. If interested write for booklet "Water Works Bonds."

MURAVIEFF'S SELECTION IS NOT POPULAR ONE

Minister Lamsdorff Doesn't Like the Czar's Choice for Peace Plenipotentiary.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—M. Muravieff will arrive here Sunday. He will receive personal instructions from the emperor and consult with the various ministers and will leave with his suite for Washington, probably about July 20.

It is generally understood here that M. Muravieff's selection as peace plenipotentiary was extremely distasteful to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and that it was the emperor's personal act.

Among the Liberals a story is being circulated and believed that Japan at the Washington peace conference will demand that the treaty of peace shall be submitted for the ratification of the Russian people in order to insure its observance in case of a change of government.

TOKYO, July 6.—The emperor delivered an address today to the peace plenipotentiaries, saying: "You should devote yourselves with all of your power to discharge your mission and make every effort to secure the re-establishment of peace on a durable basis."

At a conference this afternoon of officers of all state and local Christian Endeavor unions, a plan was unanimously indorsed for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Christian Endeavor by a gift of 25 cents from each present and past Endeavorer to a fund for the erection of an international headquarters building.

DENVER, July 6.—The seventh international convention of the Epworth league opened today with three simultaneous meetings in Coliseum hall, Trinity Methodist church and Central Presbyterian church. Fully 20,000 delegates and visitors have been attracted to Denver by the convention.

STORM SWEEPS GREENSBURG.

Trees Uprooted and Immense Amount of Damage Done to Property. Crops Injured.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—A terrific rain, wind and hail storm swept over Greensburg at 6 o'clock this evening, doing thousands of dollars of damage. Trees were uprooted and thrown across street railway tracks, delaying traffic for hours. The storm cut a clean swath in the old St. Clair cemetery, a half dozen giant oaks being felled. Hail caused damage to St. Joseph's academy, many of the windows on the south front being broken. Chimneys were wrecked and several homes were unroofed.

The wind was particularly strong in the valley south of Greensburg. The boiler house at No. 2 plant of the Keystone Coal and Coke Company was wrecked and will have to be rebuilt. A traveling crane at the Brown Ketcham Iron works was torn from its foundation and thrown across the railroad tracks. The damage is said to be $40,000, and work has been suspended. Wheat has been leveled to the grounds. The entire gable of a double brick house in South Greensburgh was blown in and the roof partly torn off. All the creeks overflowed their banks and many cellars were flooded.

MARRIED MILLIONAIRE.

Humble School Teacher Finds Favor in the Eyes of William H. Wanamaker.

PITTSFIELD, MASS., July 6.—(Special.)—Miss Mabel L. Walton, school teacher, was married at her home in North Adams this noon to William H. Wanamaker, the millionaire merchant of Philadelphia and brother of John Wanamaker. The officiating clergymen were the Rev. J. A. Hamilton of the North Adams Methodist church and the Rev. Charles L. Kloss, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Philadelphia. Only a few relatives and friends were present, there being no display of any kind.

Mrs. Wanamaker is the daughter of John Walton, a poor wool sorter in the Arnold print works, North Adams. She is a graduate of Smith college. For several years she has taught German in Miss Hill's private school for girls in Philadelphia, where she met Mr. Wanamaker.

TWENTY-SIX ARE DEAD IN TEXAS

Tornado Which Swept Northern Part of the State Wrought Terrible Damage.

SCHOOLHOUSES DEMOLISHED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FT. WORTH, TEX., July 6.—Twenty-six persons are known to have been killed and 50 injured by the tornado which swept over a portion of Montague county in the northern part of this state yesterday afternoon. The property loss will probably aggregate $200,000.

Following is a revised list of the dead:

A. P. EARLE.
SADIE EARLE.
BUCK EARLE.
INFANT OF LAWRENCE PILLOW.
MR. TOMLINSON, WIFE AND FOUR CHILDREN.
MRS. C. C. SHACKELFORD.
LINNIE SHACKELFORD.

FOUR CHILDREN OF MRS. LESTER.
CALEB WHITE.
MRS. C. H. WILLIAMS.
FRANK EARIN.
TWO UNKNOWN PERSONS AT JACKSBORO.
MISS M. POTTS AND CLAIBORN WHITE, may die.

The tornado made its appearance near Nocona at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon from a cone-shaped greenish cloud. The force of the wind swept everything in its path. The storm area cut an area about three miles wide and 15 in length. Crops were beaten to the ground and hundreds of cattle were killed or maimed.

Long Branch school house, four miles west of Montague, was destroyed and the Dixie school house, six miles south, was demolished. The students in both these schools escaped serious injury.

Several of the most valuable farms in upper Texas were directly in the path of the storm and the death list is largely made up of country people. Nocona was the only town that suffered materially, the victims being there and in its immediate vicinity.

Many houses were damaged in Montague and the loss there will be considerable. The county court house sustained the loss of its roof, and three churches were partially destroyed. The tornado traveled in a southerly direction and spent its force in about half an hour.

REPORT SHIP BLOWN UP

Press who visited the Kniaz Potemkine in company with the mayor and found the battleship commanded by an elected committee of seven, headed by "Ensign and Quartermaster" Alexieff, a quasi-commissioned rank in the Russian navy. Everything was in order and good discipline prevailed. All the guns were loaded, and it was said that the mutineers had a full complement of ammunition. The crew consisted of 750 men and there were 15 more in the torpedo boat. No officers were seen, but it was rumored that there were several ensigns among the crew held prisoners and costumed as sailors.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—The Black sea fleet has gone to Theodosia, according to advices received by the admiralty late this afternoon. Admiral Chaulnin's warships left Sevastopol for Theodosia at about 9 o'clock today and should arrive there early this evening. The result is awaited with the most intense anxiety.

Dispatches received from the governor of Simferopol, who is executing the decree of martial law at Theodosia, say that about half the Kniaz Potemkine's crew desire to surrender, but they are prevented from doing so by the revolutionists. There were only six companies of troops at Theodosia yesterday, but reinforcements of infantry and artillery have been dispatched from Sevastopol and probably reached there today.

MUTINOUS TROOPS SHOT.

Fourteen Russian Soldiers Are Killed at Warsaw for Refusing to Go to Manchuria.

BERLIN, July 6.—A correspondent at Kattowitz, Silesia, says he learns that 16 men were designated in each company of the Lithuania Life Guard regiment in Warsaw to go to Manchuria June 28, and that the men so designated refused to go and their comrades refused to make them do so. The colonel of the Lithuania regiment sent to another life guard regiment, named the St. Petersburg, for help, but the men refused to obey orders, which was also the case with a third life guard regiment, the Kexholm.

The colonel of the Lithuania regiment then applied to the military commander of Warsaw, Lieut. Gen. Konaroff, who sent a detachment of Cossacks to the Mokotow camp. Some of the mutineers fired on the Cossacks, who returned the fire, 14 altogether being killed before those who resisted were arrested.

WHOLE PENINSULA REVOLTS.

Anarchy Takes a New Hold in Crimea, Causing Consternation at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—The whole Crimean peninsula is on the verge of revolt and anarchy reigns in the mountains of the Caucasus from Batoum to Baku. Only brief details are available on account of the rigid censorship established by Admiral Chouknin, commander of the Black Sea fleet.

Telegrams from the Caucasus, where a state bordering on anarchy has existed for a month, say the news of the mutiny on board the Kniaz Potemkine made an electric impression and was the signal for a general movement with which troops and police are absolutely powerless to cope. Railroad traffic in all directions has ceased and the people are fleeing on horseback and all kinds of vehicles over the mountain roads and trails.

Almost consternation prevails in official circles here.

While no information as to contents of the document is disclosed, it is said that at least Edwin S. Holmes, the assistant statistician, who is under suspension, will not return to the department.

CALM IN HIS TORTURE.

Lineman With 500 Volts of Electricity Passing Through Him Retains Presence of Mind.

GREENSBURG, July 6.—(Special.)—William Snite, chief lineman for the Westmoreland Electric Company, was seriously if not fatally injured tonight. The lighting service in Greensburg was entirely disarranged by the storm of the early evening. In searching for the seat of the trouble Snite climbed a pole in Second street, and finding a tangled mass of wires, he began to rearrange them when two live wires crossed and a current of 500 volts passed through his body.

With rare presence of mind, Snite retained his hold on the cross arm and shouted directions to his men to break the circuit on the street. It was fully 15 minutes before this was done, and the ensnared lineman suffered excruciating pain. He was rescued by members of Hook and Ladder Company No. 4. His right hand was almost burned off at the wrist, and at a late hour tonight he had not regained consciousness at the Westmoreland hospital.

CURFEW RINGS FOR NEWSBOYS

Five Peals of Warning Sounded from City Hall Promptly at 10 O'Clock.

OTHER CHILDREN ARE EXEMPT

Young and ambitious followers of Andrew Carnegie in the dispensation of literature have had their efforts curtailed by the establishment of an official curfew which was sounded last night for the first time, when the bell in the belfry of City Hall tolled five times at 10 o'clock, or 9.54 city hall time, which was six minutes slower than truthful watches.

Yesterday afternoon Superintendent of Police Wallace delivered the curfew order denying an uninformed public the right to purchase afternoon newspapers after 10 o'clock at night, and thereby establishing a union closing hour for the newsies. Orders were given to all patrolmen last night to drive newsboys off the streets after 10 o'clock at night and newsgirls after 8 o'clock. The official order, which was read to all officers, was as follows:

Pittsburgh, July 6, 1905.

To all Inspectors:—The selling of newspapers in our streets by boys after 10 p. m. is prohibited, and by girls after 8 p. m., and the patrolmen shall see to it that those children are kept off the street after those hours. Yours truly,

ALEXANDER WALLACE,
Superintendent of the Bureau of Police.

Many Youngsters Were Scared.

The order was somewhat of a surprise, as the superintendent had been quoted as saying that all children, regardless of occupation, were liable to arrest if found on the streets, unaccompanied, after the hours stated, and that the order would be applicable in the residential sections and parks, as well as in the downtown sections of the city.

As a result the city was apparently childless last night, and youngsters were gathered into the fold early. Several downtown concerns who employ boys for delivery purposes at night expected to hear of them from the police station during the night, while a manager of one of the local telegraph offices made inquiry at headquarters as to whether his messenger boys would be exempt from the curfew act.

According to the official order, pedling matches, lead pencils, flowers, or any other wares other than newspapers does not constitute crime under the nineteenth century curfew law. In the afternoon papers of yesterday the superintendent of police is quoted as saying that the new law will apply to children under 16 years of age. The official order applies merely to "children," and policemen were in a quandary to decide when "children" are not "children."

Enforcing the Curfew.

As the old bell in City Hall spoke forth the five peals of warning last night there was a general scatter of newsies along Fifth avenue. Two little fellows stationed at the Smithfield street corner were inclined to disregard the curfew. Officer Martin Connolly at once saw his duty and did it. Pointing his night stick in true Sousa fashion, he commanded the violators to desist.

"We need de money," came the answer.

Connolly gave chase and the mutineers retreated up the hump, only to be met by Officer Martin Reynolds, who bravely held the fort in front of the Frick building. Finding themselves in worse predicament than the Russian army in Tie Pass, the revolutionists surprised their attackers by executing a beautiful flank movement into Cherry alley.

Officers Patrick Adams, John Grau and James McCrey drove the newsies away from the vicinity of Fifth avenue and Wood street after the curfew hour, in masterful style, and with the exception of one lone street merchant, who had succeeded in running the gauntlet and establishing himself at Fifth avenue and Market street for a time, the avenue knew not the echo of "Extree" after 10 o'clock last night.

It is the purpose of the police to warn the newsies and drive them from the streets after 10 o'clock for a day or two, after which arrests will be made for violation of the order. While no order to the effect has as yet been issued, Supt. Wallace has made the announcement that newsies will not be allowed to dispense their wares before 4 o'clock in the morning.

STILL AFTER BEATES.

Homeopathic State Board Expects Action by State Judicial Council.

Dr. Willard's Statement.

The homeopathic state board is determined to press to a conclusion its protest against the action of Dr. Henry Beates of Philadelphia, charged with changing two of the questions which the state medical council had prepared for the state medical examination last week. The fact that the questions were changed and that the state homeopathic board had protested against such action has already been published in The Gazette.

Dr. L. H. Willard of Allegheny, president of the state homeopathic board, was asked last night if the board had made any further move in the matter.

"It is not up to the board to do anything further just now," said Dr. Willard. "The matter is before the state medical council of which Maj. I. C. Brown is president and N. C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction, is secretary and treasurer. I wrote to Dr. Schaeffer, enclosing the homeopathic board's protest, with some comments of my own, and later I sent him a letter containing more facts. Dr. Schaeffer, I am informed, was not in Harrisburg when my letters arrived there. I have no doubt that the state medical council will take some action, as the action of Dr. Beates in changing the questions was a high-handed proceeding.

"The questions were in the examination of chemistry and were alike for all schools of medicine, the homeopathic, allopathic and eclectic. They were prepared by the medical council. We hold that no examiner had any right to change those questions, certainly not unless he had consulted with the representatives of the other schools. Yet Dr. Beates did not require his allopathic applicants for a state certificate to answer two of these questions, questions which the representatives of the homeopathic and eclectic schools were required to answer."

MORGUE VENTILATION.

Commissioner Price Makes an Examination of the System and the Mercury Goes Up.

County Commissioner Price spent some time yesterday examining ventilating systems in the city with a view to making a change in the ventilation of the court house.

During the day he visited the morgue for the first time to learn how the system worked there. It developed the apparatus has not been in constant use. He ordered a test made last night. The windows were closed and the machinery set in motion. The clerks were working in their undershirts and at 10 o'clock the mercury was at 86 degrees.

SHADE TREES RAZED BY FIERCE HURRICANE

The handsome trees which for years have protected the lawn and old homestead of the late Attorney Marcus A. Woodward, Fifth and Aiken avenues, East End, were razed down by the fierce but short storm which passed over the East End shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The storm up-rooted quite a number of the big shade trees and badly damaged others in the East End district, and since Fourth of July many people who pass in the cars in the residence streets have expressed great astonishment at the force of the gale which toppled the big trees over like nine-pins. The trees were among the finest in the avenue and have often been remarked for the great spread of their branches and thick foliage.

LIGHTNING'S PRANKS CAUSE WOMAN'S DEATH

Death Dealing Bolt Flashes Along a Clothesline, Killing Her Instantly.

Death came in a peculiar manner yesterday evening to Mrs. Walter Menhold, an Allegheny woman, who was visiting her grandfather, Joseph Wallace, a farmer near DeHaven, on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad. The woman was hanging out clothes on a wire line, tied at each end to a locust tree. A sudden storm came up and while Mrs. Menhold had in her hands a wet garment lightning struck one of the trees, flashed through the wire and killed her instantly. Her husband, Walter Menhold, who is employed by Spear & Co., was notified last night at his home, 405 Federal street, Allegheny. The woman has a brother, Robert Wallace, living at 408 Taylor avenue, Allegheny. She leaves her husband and a 15-month-old child.

Five unclaimed bodies were buried in the Potters field from the morgue yesterday. They were Charles Anderson, who was killed by an engine at the plant of the Clinton Iron and Steel Company, West Carson street, last Monday; John Ceramidas of 5613 Penn avenue, who committed suicide June 22; Amos Clover, who was drowned in the Monongahela river last Monday; an unknown white man, who was killed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Laughlin junction June 29, and Theodore Roosevelt Burkle, an infant, who was found dead at Sawmill run.

George Bart, aged 26, of Millvale, was killed yesterday by a train on the West Penn railroad at the yards at Willow Grove. He was a brakeman and is survived by his widow and a child.

Mrs. Dora Smith of Willow and Fortieth streets yesterday identified the man who died at St. Francis hospital Wednesday from injuries received that day by falling off a trestle at Thirty-third street and Liberty avenue, as her husband, Stanley Smith, aged 25, a steel worker.

RECALLS OLD STRIFE.

Wabash Contractors Are Confronted With P. & L. E. Right of Way Signs.

Contractors building the extension of the Wabash railroad on the South Side from the tunnel along Carson street to the Smithfield street bridge, and then north, were surprised yesterday morning when they were confronted by fences erected parallel with Carson street, bearing posts, some of which were labelled "P. & L. E." and "R. & W."

It recalled the strenuous times of three years ago between the rival roads, when armies of workmen were in warfare against each other and Fort Ramsey was established. Care was taken yesterday not to molest the fence or encroach upon P. & L. E. right of way. The work of excavating was not stopped. In one place the fence crosses over the site for a pier and the excavation was made under the rails without disturbing them.

Avalon Will Pay Its Debts.

The school board says that persons living in the boroughs surrounding the township deposited garbage within the township's limits and that contagious diseases from the boroughs are brought into the township.

Charge Driver With Embezzlement.

John Jones, of Oakland, a driver for the Duncan Milk Company, of Collins avenue, was arrested yesterday morning on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. It is alleged Jones collected money amounting to over $40, from customers on his milk route, and failed to make any return to the company. He was committed to jail in default of $500 bail.

KELL USES BOTH HANDS WITH TELLING EFFECT

Charles Bender Is Quickly Outclassed When Boarding Housekeeper Goes Into Action.

With a knife in one hand and a fork in the other, Charles Kell, keeper of a boarding house at Liberty avenue and Thirty-fourth street, made short work of his enemy, Charles Bender, during a fight at Kell's house, where Bender is a boarder. Both men are employed in a brewery and yesterday afternoon had a dispute at work. After returning home last evening the trouble was renewed, with the result that Kell was knocked down by Bender.

Kell secured a knife and fork and hostilities were renewed by Kell, who struck Bender in the face with the handle of the knife, breaking his nose; then stuck the fork into the center of Bender's breast and followed this up by gashing Bender in the right leg above the knee with the knife blade. Bender went down and out. He was carried to the office of a physician, who put three stitches in the wound in Bender's leg and dressed his other injuries.

Kell was arrested by Constable Joseph Ashton of the Fifteenth ward, but was soon released, and at 10 o'clock last night both men were at Kell's home, and they seemed satisfied.

Edith Eleanor Westerman, aged two years, daughter of John Westerman, 2701 Palmgreen avenue.

Chairman Shonts of the Panama commission makes a plausible defense to criticisms concerning the unhealthfulness of conditions on the isthmus, but more important is his announcement that the first duty of this country will be to make the zone healthful. This ought to be done before the full complement of laborers are engaged, for such a course will not only save life but prevent exaggerated reports concerning yellow fever, of which he complains, and the frightening away of workers.

Plans for the reorganization of the state health department were submitted to Gov. Pennypacker yesterday by Dr. Dixon, the new commissioner. The chief has not yet appointed his 10 assistants, but the fact that he has received over 1,000 applications shows that he will have no lack of candidates. As a district officer must be a graduate of a medical college and had five years in practice, there seems to be plenty of applicants who are disappointed or dissatisfied with the outlook of their present fields.

An Atlantic City brakeman proved himself a real hero. A despondent man had stepped on the track in front of a moving freight train with the deliberate attempt to commit suicide. In the struggle to throw the man off the rails both were caught by the locomotive, which took off the rescuer's foot, while the leg of the would-be suicide, which was crushed, proved to be wooden. But the fact that the wooden-legged man was sorry he had escaped need not detract from the satisfaction the life-saving must give his rescuer.

Mayor Dunne's decision that municipal ownership of street railways is not practical in Chicago for the present will be a disappointment to the enthusiastic theorists who believed him when he announced his intention of buying and building lines at once. Such a problem appears different after one has assumed a position of responsibility and power. Besides, Expert Dalrymple did not give him the encouragement he expected. The revision of Judge Dunne's opinion may modify municipal ownership demands in future Chicago platforms.

Besides testifying to the importance of the educational institutions of Pennsylvania, the selection of State Superintendent Schaeffer as president of the National Educational association is a personal tribute to an earnest and successful worker in the cause. Mr. Schaeffer was appointed superintendent of public instruction by Gov. Pattison 12 years ago, and has received the indorsement of the succeeding executives of the state. The choice of Supt. Maxwell of New York as vice president of the organization seems to imply approval of the special courses in that city, for which he has been criticised by the local administration.

The decision to purchase the Butler plank road and abolish the tolls will be pleasing to those who use the highway from Allegheny to Butler, for it has been increasing in importance as a thoroughfare. Allegheny county has agreed to pay $65,000 to the private corporation for the stretch of 15 miles, and in 30 days after the completion of the purchase the road will be free. While the surface is in such good condition that it will wear for some time yet, ultimately macadam will undoubtedly be laid in conformity with modern ideas of road building. The abolition of charges for use of the Butler road will leave the six miles off Perrysville avenue the only toll road in the county.

The United States was represented by three ambassadors when the body of John Paul Jones was moved in state from Paris yesterday preparatory to its journey to this country. Ambassador McCormick was present, but took no active part, and the body was delivered by Special Ambassador Porter to Special Ambassador Loomis, who in turn delivered it into the custody of Admiral Sigsbee. The French government contributed to the imposing military parade past the pavilion in the Esplanade des Invalides, but the appearance of the American sailors aroused especial enthusiasm. There is a disposition to make amends for the failure to honor the naval hero when first put to rest in a grave which was soon forgotten.

The fact that mobilization has been discontinued indicates that Russia is at least waiting expectantly for the session of the peace commission. Meantime, it is considered too humiliating for her to ask an armistice, especially as Japan knows her willingness to consider proposals to terminate the war. That this is no time for extraordinary measures is shown by the fact that almost coincident with the discontinuance of mobilizing an order has been issued forbidding the convention of zemstvoists, called for July 13.

The Selection of Mr. Root.

It seems to be definitely settled that Mr. Elihu Root will re-enter the cabinet as the successor of the late John Hay. Mr. Root's own statement concerning the now acknowledged tender of the state portfolio will be made today, and it is authoritatively intimated that he will accept the offer and become again a member of the president's official household. There can be no question that this result will greatly relieve the president's mind. John Hay's brilliant achievements in diplomacy and state craft had more far-reaching influence than that which was to be found in the successful issue of the delicate problems that passed in review during his administration. The American public had come to trust Mr. Hay. His genius, his statesmanship and his splendid poise of mind and judgment had begotten a confidence and security on the part of the public that was one of the most valuable assets of the Roosevelt administration. Not only was this so, but Mr. Hay's conduct of state affairs had won for him the personal and official esteem and affection of foreign representatives in Washington. They believed in his fairness, his soundness of judgment and his integrity, and the successful issue of very many important international questions was founded largely upon this admirable spirit of faith and confidence. It was thus that Mr. Hay created new responsibilities and elevated the department of state even above its normal position of importance in the cabinet. To successfully fill the vacancy caused by his death must, therefore, have been a problem of great moment to the president.

It will be agreed upon all sides that the selection of Elihu Root will come more nearly meeting the demands above recited than any other that could have been made. Mr. Root is not an unknown or an untried quantity. His services in the cabinet, both under McKinley and Roosevelt, showed him to be a man of remarkable character and attainments. While he served in another capacity, he displayed qualities of mind and character that will peculiarly fit him for the duties of the state department. He is absolutely fearless, and is withal a man of conservative and cautious spirit. His personal relation to the president is such as to insure the most perfect harmony and accord with the chief executive. The nation is to be congratulated that in its profound loss through the death of John Hay there should be found a man so finely equipped for public service ready to make the undoubted personal and financial sacrifice at the call of his country.

The Automobile Race.

For the second time the Frenchman Thery won the international cup race in his Richard-Brasier machine in France, Wednesday. There were 18 machines entered, bearing representatives from the United States, France, England, Germany, Austria and Italy, and the run was through the Auvergne course in the south of France. The winner made the 341 miles in seven hours and 21 minutes, an average of 47⅞ miles an hour, which is not considered a sensational record. While the customary accidents to machines did not result in fatalities on the course, one enthusiast was killed while on his way to attend the sport.

America has boasted of her skill in constructing light and fast vehicles, but the best that a rider from this country could do this time was to finish with a battered machine. But this required no little exhibition of courage, for a flying stone broke the oil feed pipe, so strenuous efforts were needed to keep the machine on the track to the end of the race. If the cultivation of automobiling continues in this country, and Americans take part in international contests, they will yet produce a winning machine with a driver skillful enough to carry it to victory.

Limits of Child Labor.

In an address on child labor before the national educational convention at Asbury Park, Prof. Giddings of Columbia called attention to the educational value of work for boys when it is done within proper limits, as when they are employed on the farm. When this was common, youths received from it a certain educational value as a training for after life, the discipline enforcing lessons of self-reliance which could best be gained in this way. This defense of child labor has less application today, for most of the occupations engaging children are in factories or similarly confined places. It is here that the state exercises a power above that of the parent to insure a proper development, mentally and physically. If the more healthful occupation also it exercises a restraint considered essential for the welfare of the child.

Any defense of child labor, however, is dangerous, because if the state allows exceptions to arbitrary rules, they may serve as improper precedents. Thus, the argument has been made that the night school education may be sufficient for the minor engaged in a remunerative occupation. The Philadelphia Educational association took up this claim recently, and published its answer in a current report. It found that Philadelphia has 18,900 children under 16 who are employed. On the theory that they would seek in the night schools the education denied them on account of their occupation, many of them would be enrolled as pupils. But the association found that only 2,600 of them were in the night schools. The report argues that these schools, instead of furnishing a broad, fundamental education, are patronized by those seeking to acquire a certain branch, and thus the report agrees with Prof. Giddings that the state should provide a more general opportunity for the education of the child by requiring that he devote most of his time to the public school during certain years.

Another Japanese Loan.

Financial circles were somewhat surprised by receiving confirmation from London of the recent rumors that the Japanese government is again an applicant for a new war loan. The new issue is to be $150,000,000, and it will be allotted equally to English, German and American bankers. London cables announce that arrangemnets for floating the loan have been completed. The rate will be 4½ per cent, the same as that for the loan floated last spring, but the issue price will be 90, as compared with 87½, at which a similar loan was enormously oversubscribed in Europe and in this country two months ago. In fact, Japan will realize a higher price for the new 4½ per cent issue than she did for the second loan of the war, which bore six per cent interest, and which was floated last year. The rise in Japanese credit is another proof that nothing succeeds like success.

The surprise expressed over this new borrowing is due to the fact that last spring when $150,000,000 4½ per cent bonds were sold, it was understood that the proceeds would supply all of Japan's war needs for the remainder of 1905. There is the bare possibility, however, that this fresh borrowing is prompted by diplomacy, rather than by the needs of fresh munitions of war. The more bonds Japan is able to sell to British and American investors, the more friends she will have among the people of those nations, and the stronger will be their championship of any peace terms dictated by Japan that will incidentally enhance the security and market value of Japanese bonds.

Emigration to Canada.

The tide of healthy emigration from the United States continues to overflow on the north and invade Canada, where fertile territory may be secured which is peculiarly adapted to wheat raising. Farmers who have taken up settlements there expect to pay for them in two or three years, and the terms are said to be so favorable that this can be done by the thrifty pioneer. The Canadian Northern railway is pushing its tracks into Saskatchewan, and 50,000 settlers are now annually invading the Dominion from the United States. The government has over 21 immigration agencies in the United States encouraging this movement, which promises soon to appropriate the most available land in the vicinity.

The United States has served so long as the landing place for immigrants, that to provide settlers for another country is a new attitude for us, and if the crossing over our border were to continue there might be reason for apprehension on account of the loss of industrious citizens. But the most attractive parts of the region are likely to be taken up in a few years, and consequently the tide checked. A certain restless but enterprising element in America is always seeking new homes, and when the west becomes populated it must turn its course to the most tempting places across the border. While it may not be good business to receive the worst elements of the world in immigration and send out only the best, such a movement not only benefits our neighbors, but reflects credit on the influence of this country in promoting good citizenship.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

He sees that this great roundabout
The world, with all its motly rout,
Church, army, physic, law,
Its customs and its businesses,
Is no concern at all of his,
And says—What says he? Caw.
—The Jackdaw.

How big is your world?

Of course the whole world is yours, in a sense, but how much of it do you occupy, how much of it do you use, or how much of it are you acquainted with?

Do you know all the people in the city or town in which you live? Are you interested in all enterprises which tend to make your town or city better?

How could you know so many people and be interested in so many things?

Well, you are not and, truth to tell, you don't know all the people on your street, much less in your ward, nor have you an interest in the various enterprises which render your place prosperous.

Of how much of the world are you a part, or what particular part of the world would miss you were you to be suddenly removed? Do you imagine that your disappearance from the face of the earth would be noticed, save by a few intimate acquaintances? How many people would miss you if you should go away unexpectedly?

* * *

How like the jackdaw, of which Cowper wrote so cleverly, using it to represent man, busy, boastful, self-important man, who, after looking out over his world and listening to the stories of the worlds of others, straightens himself up, looks wise, and says "Caw."

Now, in all sincerity, is not your world a very circumscribed affair, a wee, little, insignificant part of the whole? You may feel that you are the biggest thing in your world, but that isn't much to say, for your world is such a tiny affair that it doesn't amount to more than a mere speck on a map of the world.

You probably think you know a great many people, and maybe you do, but you would be surprised to learn how few you know. You may think you know several thousand, when in fact you hardly know several hundred.

Suppose you undertook to write the names and addresses of all the people you know personally. Write as many as you can recall just now, and then each day add others as they occur to you, and at the end of the week count them and see how few people you really know.

There isn't much danger of the list running into the thousands, and you may have to stop and scratch your head several times before you get the first hundred written.

Of the thousands you see daily on the streets, how many do you know and how many know you? And of these few, how many do you care to know, and how many think you are worth knowing?

* * *

Occasionally there appears a phenomenal man, such as James G. Blaine, who never forgets a face or a name. But these are so rare that it may be set down as exceptions to the rule.

However, it is enough to know a few who are worth knowing.

Most young women narrow the number of these down to one man, not that they think the others are entirely worthless, but this particular one is the fittest of all to survive.

And most men, for that matter, seem to conclude that there is only one woman, really—at least from their point of view.

This appears to be a trick of nature or a scheme by which men and women are made to mate and pair off for life. And it is a good scheme, too, when you come to think it over. Were it not so there would be an end to social development, moral growth and human progress.

With one to love and a few others to know, what more do you need or what more could you want?

And suppose your world is small; it is large enough for you; and it would be bigger if you could fill it.

* * *

The fact of the matter is that each of us makes our own world, and we may make it as large as we please. But if we attempt to make it out of proportion to ourselves we are almost certain to make a failure of it.

Anyway, what is it all about, and what is the use of it all?

Maybe you don't know or maybe you don't care. And yet we find that most people do care, and do want to know.

Dr. Charles C. Hall has an article in the current Journal of Education bearing on this phase of the subject, from which the following is taken:

"The disorders of the world are manmade, not God-sent. They may not, without impiety, be attributed to God. The reconstruction of philosophy has brought with it a world-view that sets aside the old fatalistic conception of history.

"The proposition: 'Whatever is, is right' no longer satisfies. God no longer appears to our thought a veiled, impenetrable Jove; setting, afar off, the springs of destiny, without regard to that infinite variable, the human will.

"The tabernacle of God is with men; he is present and active in his world, not as the driver of a machine, but as the informer of minds, the searcher of hearts, the Lord of conscience, the revealer of truth. His plan for the world he intrusts to the hands of men, by whom it is advanced or retarded according as they have or lack knowledge, enlightenment, discipline.

"Through this avenue of a more adequate philisophy of God and man, God has, in our thought, advanced man-ward—man has ascended God-ward. The importance of the individual appears; the function of a moral reason is seen; the value of moral culture is disclosed. To live becomes a momentous privilege; to belong to the race of man, through which the divine world-plan is mediated, becomes an investiture of dignity.

"The measure and quality of the man as a concrete social fact are in the spirit that dominates his thinking.

"Religion and reverence, personal as well as institutional, spreading like an atmosphere through school, and church, and press, the home, impregnating the heart and addressing the reason of our youth, informing their ideals; determining their world view, broadening their conception of patriotism—this is the organizing principle around which shall congregate the magnificent energies of Anglo-Saxon democracy, to set before the world an example of the liberty of ethical obedience, the magnanimity of moral power, the generosity of social love."

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—A woman whose opinions on crops are worth thousands of dollars to her clients is one of the products of Wall street. The crop that receives her attention is cotton almost exclusively, and her success in predicting its dimensions has been at times startling. A few men who have made good use of the information she gave them have made small fortunes. It is to her advice that Theodore H. Price, the former cotton king, who fell five years ago, is said to have owed the turn in his fortunes that has enabled him not only to pay off his debts of several millions of dollars, but to re-establish himself as a power in the market with a capital approaching another million.

The young woman whom the cotton bulls and bears look upon almost as a magician is Miss Kate M. Giles. She calls herself a statistician, having succeeded to the business established by a man trained in the federal census bureau. Some of the recent announcements that have been regarded as evidence that the leak in the government cotton report continues, are really the results of Miss Giles' careful collection of facts. From her correspondents all over the south she receives reports and estimates the crop from them. Miss Giles employs many of the same men who furnish figures to the government, and consequently she has the same basis of calculation. It is her rule, always, however, to make allowances for the pessimism of farmers in a bad crop, and for enthusiasm in a good one. Thus her success is in part due to her ability to discern the mood of the cotton planters.

Her latest exploit has been to forecast the disaster to the crop which the United States census bureau has just announced. Her estimate, sent last Friday to her customers, made the condition of the growing crop 75 per cent, as compared with a condition of 85 per cent a year before. The government's figures, announced on Monday, showed a condition of 77 per cent. After Miss Giles issued her report there was a mysterious rise of 35 points in the market, or $1.75 a bale. It was caused by the frantic buying which her customers did as soon as they received her figures. The general public laughed at the report of disaster, but Monday afternoon it was another story. When the government report was shown to have confirmed Miss Giles statements, cotton leaped 100 points, of $5 a bale in five minutes. It was the most sensational rise ever seen in the pits.

Harlem River Tunnel Opened.

At last the public is permitted to ride through the subway under the Harlem river, linking Manhattan island and the Bronx with a tie of rapid transit. The first public car went through the tunnel this afternoon, carrying as passengers Frank Hedley, general manager of the Interborough Company, and a party of newspapermen and photographers. The Harlem tunnel has been building for three years. Unlike most other tunnels, it was constructed above the surface in the form of the sections of two steel tubes which were then carefully sunk to the bottom of the river, where a channel had been dredged in the soft mud to receive them. Compressed air forced out the water, and concrete walls were then built to reinforce the steel tubes. The tunnel has been completed for several weeks, but it is only recently that the track has been finished so that trains could be operated through the tubes.

Chinese Reformers Aiding Japanese.

Sympathy with the Japanese arms is becoming boldly outspoken in Mott street these days, admiration having been succeeded the former hatred of the Chinese for the little islanders. A significant announcement in connection with an approaching entertainment in the Academy of Music, one of the largest theaters of the city, for the benefit of the orphan children of Japan, is that Kang Yu Wai, leader of the Chinese reform party, has taken a box for the occasion, and that seats have been engaged for many prominent residents of Chinatown. Kang, who is the former tutor of the Chinese emperor in things occidental, is lingering in the city urging his propaganda among the Asiatics and their friends, and is receiving every encouragement from the members of the Japanese colony, who are in accord with his views that China is ready for modern ideas, and that his country should not be exploited by Europeans.

Lured Victims With a Doll.

Williamsburg confessed today to a girl burglar and highway robber who is only 16 years old, and lures small victims with the aid of a doll. The young prisoner, who is in the House of the Good Shepherd, where a magistrate committed her, is Lottie Dorn. She never went to school and cannot even write her own name. With her doll, the detectives say, she would approach a well-dressed little girl and ingratiate herself into the victim's good graces by proffering her doll. The pair would walk along side by side for a while, talking the talk of little-mothers. At length the wily Lottie would suggest that the doll was cold—wouldn't the adopted mother put her coat around the shivering child.

Invariably the adopted mother would do so, whereupon Lottie would regain the doll and the coat, "just to carry her a while," and then promptly decamp.

Liberty Statue Caught Pilfering.

Uncle Sam has at last convicted Miss Liberty—she whom Bartholdi fathered—of obstructing wireless telegraph messages sent between various points about the harbor of New York. Miss Liberty had long been under suspicion. She never betrayed by a look, however, that missing messages were gathered in beneath her ample robes of bronze upon the great granite pedestal on which she enlightens the world around Bedloes island. Finally, however, the navy department stationed two vessels with wireless telegraph apparatus in the bay, one above the statue and one below it. Testing instruments were applied and the interrupted electric currents were detected entering the crown of the goddess at the points of the bronze spikes that ornament it.

Sense of Traffic.

From the Lancet.

"By the possession of such a sense, the individual hears and sees approaching vehicles without consciously employing his eyes or his ears. Without thinking he looks both to the right and to the left before he crosses a street, and he does not leave the curb before his course is safe before him. Then he takes every step with measured confidence."

HUMAN NATURE

Boiled Hammers for Pleurisy.

That well known New England author and preacher, the late Edith Kellogg, once told the following story, anent the origin of certain "old wives'" notions:

"A country doctor, in the early days of the last century, was called to attend a man who was suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy. Wishing to blister the patient, he seized the only available thing, the family hammer, plunged it into a kettle of boiling water, and, after getting it hot, raised several blisters by touching the patient over the seat of the pain.

Ever afterward all the old women in that section knew that there was nothing equal to "boiled hammers" for pleurisy, and there was a hot dispute as to the best kind of a hammer to use, but the old-fashioned claw hammer finally won the day.—Boston Herald.

Where the Bullet Struck.

Speaking of the tribulations of the cross examiner, Henry Wollman cites this experience:

In the progress of a murder trial near Kansas City he wished to learn from a witness just where the bullet struck the victim.

"Right here in this town," replied the witness.

"Yes, I know; but where did the bullet hit him?"

"Near Sixth and Wyoming streets."

"You don't understand me. Where did the bullet enter?"

"It came in the window."

"But in what part of the body did it lodge?"

"It never hit his body."

"Well, it certainly hit him somewhere—he is dead."

"Hit him in the head," said the witness.—New York Times.

Wanted a Pass.

Director of the Mint Roberts is telling a story on a friend of his with whom he recently visited the Lewis and Clark exposition grounds at Portland, Ore. The Iowa man had been accustomed to receiving railroad passes and deadhead tickets at theaters, so when he was confronted with a sign announcing the admission charge of 50 cents in the grounds he was inclined to balk. "Here," he said to his friend, Roberts, "I don't like the idea of paying 50 cents to get in there. Wait a minute and I'll hunt up these fellows who are running the show, Lewis and Clark, and see if I can't get a pass."—Philadelphia Record.

Paper Represented Her Husband.

The late Mary A. Livermore liked to tell a story of a young friend of hers in Melrose for she believed in this story lay a lesson for husbands.

Mrs. Livermore's friend was passing a month alone, her mate having been summoned to Europe on a business trip.

"And you are very lonely without your husband now?" the elder said to the younger woman one morning.

"A little lonely," was the qualified answer.

"But surely," Said Mrs. Livermore, "you miss your husband very much now he is away?"

The other laughed bitterly.

"Oh, no," she said. "At breakfast I just stand his newspaper up in front of his plate and half the time I forget he isn't there."—Buffalo Inquirer.

He Wanted Help.

Ike, from the city, visited his Cousin Jake in the country, and a coon hunt was planned for Ike's benefit. Very early in the evening the dog treed and Jake climbed up to shake the 'coon out. A wild scrimmage followed punctuated by growling and spitting on the part of the animal and yells from Jake. Soon everything grew quiet. Jake and the animal each having reached the point where they were willing to remain quiet. Ike grew impatient and shouted:

"Jake, have you got him?"

"Yes, Ike, and I vish you vould come up and help me turn him loose a moment, please."—Memphis News Scimitar.

Missed His Opportunity.

When Charles E. Townsend was canvassing with a fine-tooth comb in the second congressional district, he did not overlook any of the approved methods for getting votes. Out in Canton township he struck a household from which the member with a ballot was away from home, but there were the buxom wife and six children.

Gen. Sam Cary used to say that the man was the head of the family, but that the woman was the neck and could turn the head at will. So the congressional aspirant started in to have the woman turn the support his way. Every child was tossed into the air and kissed. The best looking ones resembled the mother and the others were very sturdy. Charles never blushing as he passed judgment.

The last one to receive the political hazing had a red top and a face freckled like a turkey egg. He squared away on his bare feet after being released, and piped:

"Say, mister, why don't you kiss mother, too? Fred, Wood and Bob Bragg did when they was here. Guess they don't know yet that she's a widder."—Detroit Free Press.

A Gentle Hint.

The late Capt. Alfred Rice, the noted shad fisherman of the Delaware river, was not only clean and neat himself; he insisted upon cleanliness and neatness in his men.

There was a new man one shad season who always wore a dirty shirt.

The captain stood the new man's dirty white shirts for a month. Then, calling the fisherman up to him, he said:

Friend, who the deuce is it that you get to wear your shirts the first week for you?"—Baltimore Herald.

Home Life of the Khedive.

The khedive is a strict Mohammedan, and as such eschews both wines and spirits. His abstinence goes even further, for in a country where everybody smokes, he will have nothing to do with the fragrant weed. Like his father, he is a monogamist, although his religion allows him four wives. He is known to be very greatly attached to his consort, who was a Circassian lady of the khedival household before her marriage. In fact, he is essentially a domestic man, and is very fond of his children.—Westminster Gazette.

To the Green Apple.

Gov. Hoch struck a poetic vein the other day. Here is what he perpetrated in his Marion Record:

"Little green apple hanging so high—green in thy innocence and good in pie—spare the little boys the pains, and doctors' bills with frightful gains. Hide behind a shining leaf that Johnnie may not come to grief. Hide until the summer's heat makes you mellow, ripe and sweet."

Found Her Place.

Naggsby—The last time I saw Braggsby he was telling me about Miss Flirty, and said he was going to teach her to know her place. How did it turn out?

Waggsby—O, Braggsby succeeded. Miss Flirty's place is now that of housekeeper under the name of Mrs. Braggsby.—Baltimore American.

Longevity Runs in the Family.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES.

Gordon is Major of the Tenth.

At a meeting of the staff officers of the Tenth regiment, N. G. P., at the Monongahela house last night, Capt. George L. Gordon of Greensburg was elected major of the regiment to succeed Maj. H. C. Cuthbertson of New Brighton. Maj. Cuthbertson was placed on the retired list after having served the regiment for a period of 25 years. The only competitive candidate for the majority was Capt. Robert L. Tidball of Monganela City. After the ballot was counted it was found that Capt. Gordon had won the honor by a vote of 32 to 8. Another election will be held soon to select a successor to Maj. Gordon in the company and also for a successor to Capt. James C. Brady of Company H of Washington. The election last night was called by Lieut.-Col. Thomas S. Cargo of Washington, and Col. James E. Barnett of Washington presided. There was a full attendance of the staff officers.

Court Reporters End Convention.

The Pennsylvania Shorthand Writers' association closed its sixth annual convention of two days last evening with a banquet at the Hotel Henry. F. E. Peters of Pittsburgh was toastmaster and impromptu speeches were made by those present. At the morning and early afternoon sessions interesting papers were read and discussed, among which was a valuable historical paper by Col. H. C. Jennings of Harrisburg on "Reporting the Pennsylvania Legislature." In which the colonel treated the subject from its earliest inception. Among other papers were: "Practical Hints," by Marshall H. Rees of this city; "Criminal Reporting in New York," contributed by P. F. McLoughlin of New York, and "History and Present Method of Reporting the British Parliament," contributed by Albert Horton, official reporter of the Canadian house of commons.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of Arthur Head of Towanda as president and the election of William M. Clift of Philadelphia and Ira E. Briggs of Erie as vice presidents. The next convention will be held at Williamsport. A resolution was adopted thanking the Pittsburgh court reporters for their hospitality. The men enjoyed an afternoon trolley ride about Pittsburgh in a special car of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Our Uneven Bodies.

The two sides of a person's face are never alike. The eyes are out of line in two cases out of five, and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right eye is also, as a rule, higher than the left. Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest per centage of defects prevailing among fairhaired people. The smallest vibration of sound can be distinguished better with one ear than with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity, that of the middle finger growing the fastest, while that of the thumb grows slowest. In fifty-four cases out of one hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.

The Millionaire's Privilege.

The millionaire who is able at any time to leave his occupation, if he have one, and travel whither he pleases gets recreation and rest at intervals throughout the year, a periodic vacation privilege that is seldom granted to the average toiler of moderate means. His suggestions on the subject of rest, like those of Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Rockefeller on the burdens of wealth and the pure joys of poverty, have an irritating effect upon those whom they are intended to benefit.

STATE FUSION IS PROPOSED

Call for Democratic Convention Is Worded to Permit Start of Movement.

HALL IS FOR JUDGE STEWART

State Chairman J. K. P. Hall has issued the call for the reconvening of the Democratic state convention in Harrisburg on August 16. He says the purpose is to nominate a candidate for supreme court justice and to "transact such other business as may properly come before it in the interest of the welfare of the Democratic party."

The wording of the call means an attempt is to be made to secure a fusion arrangement in the state this fall. Judge John Stewart, the Republican nominee, is to be indorsed by the Democrats. For this action it is urged by the Democratic managers to secure the support of the independent Republicans for W. H. Berry, the Democracy's nominee for state treasurer. There has been talk of pulling Berry off the ticket and naming an anti-organization Republican. It is the opinion of the Democratic leaders Berry will be hard to sidetrack.

Chairman Hall, accompanied by his family and some friends, passed through Pittsburgh last evening in a private car en route to California. Mr. Hall was met at Union station by Col. J. M. Guffey, Maj. Harry Alvan Hall, W. J. Brennen and ex-Congressman Harry Green of Reading. Chairman Hall made this statement:

"I find the Democrats of the state favor the nomination of Judge Stewart. I have no doubt his nomination will be the outcome of the convention. We will make an aggressive campaign this fall, believing the conditions in the Republican state organization warrant such action. I will return before the reconvening of the Democratic convention."

The joint conference committee on Republican rules will meet some time next week. From present indications the county committee meeting on July 15 will be fairly harmonious. It is probable Pittsburgh and Allegheny will not be opposed in the desire to have their own election board conduct the primary election in September. The rule requiring all amendments to the county rules to lie over for printing will be suspended at the meeting on July 15, so any amendment proposed then can be acted on at once.

A meeting of leaders of the Servians and Croatians of Allegheny county was held yesterday afternoon at Weber's garden, Knoxville. Resolutions were adopted indorsing these Republican candidates: State Senator John W. Crawford, of Duquesne, for county recorder, and John F. Moore of Knoxville for the state senate from the forty-fifth district. It is probable that G. F. Weber will be indorsed for the place in the legislature now held by Mr. Moore.

BROKEN AXLE BLOCKADES FORBES STREET FOR HOUR

Accident to a Bloomfield Car Is Followed by a Derailment and General Tie-Up.

Car No. 1804 of the Bloomfield line proved a hoo-doo yesterday for the Pittsburgh Railways Company and came near proving worse than that for the house at 2100 Forbes street.

Shortly after 6 o'clock, just when the east-bound cars are carrying their largest loads, the front axle broke on this car at Forbes and Magee streets. In five minutes a long string of cars, continually growing longer, had piled up behind. The emergency men arrived quickly and soon saw that there was no possibility of clearing the tracks. All the cars behind were ordered to retrace their route to High street and go out Fifth avenue. The result was their desertion by the larger number of the riders who took the short cut to Fifth avenue and paid a second fare to eat dinner on time.

The car was finally put on the tracks and with difficulty was run to Seneca street, but the crippled axle caused the car to jump the track and it was stopped just in time to prevent its smashing into the house at 2100 Forbes. This house had its front knocked out by a street car about a year ago.

A corps of men worked for hours with jacks and fish plates to get the car back on the tracks. It was thrown into such a position, however, that it cleared the east bound track on Forbes street.

PAINTINGS RETURNED TO PITTSBURGH

Valuable Oils Loaned to Buffalo's Art Gallery Come Back to Carnegie Institute.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6.—(Special.)—Two valuable paintings loaned to Buffalo's new Albright art gallery by the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, were shipped to Pittsburgh from this city today. The pictures are: "The Disciples of Emmaus," by P. A. J. Dagnan Bouveret of Paris, and "Vision of Antiquity Symbol of Form," by Pierre Puvis de Chavannes, a French painter.

On account of their great value the paintings were heavily insured and carefully packed. The first named picture carries $30,000 insurance and the other is insured for $7,000. They were exhibited at the million-dollar loan exhibition at the Albright gallery for the past month and attracted much attention.

SHUT OUT OF POOL.

Lackawanna, Tennessee and Colorado Steel Companies Excluded from International Deal.

NEW YORK, July 6.—(Special.)—The Wall Street Journal says: The Lackawanna Steel Company, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company—all steel rail makers, and at present operating harmoniously with the domestic steel rail pool—are explicitly excluded from the new international steel rail pool. The exceptions were made, it is said, at the instance of the ruling factor in the international agreement on the ground the rail output of the three companies was a negligible factor.

Because of the exclusion of the three companies named friction is likely to follow. It is a fact that this year the combined rail output of all three companies will probably fall under 500,000 tons. It is also a fact that, beginning January 1, the Lackawanna Steel Company will be in a position to turn out at least 50,000 tons a month, while the combined output of the other two will be probably 20,000 tons a month.

Will Travel Dangerous Road.

TANGIER, July 6.—(Special Cable.)—For the first time since Raisuli's raids on the road from Tangier to Fez, two American tourists have undertaken to journey to the Moorish court by the direct overland route. They are James Roosevelt, nephew of the president, and J. C. White, son of the American ambassador to Italy. They are bearers of letters of introduction to several court dignitaries.

Chief, but No Policemen.

Eganse Benjamin McMann was appointed by the Etna council chief of police of the borough, Policemen John Tomlinson and Nicholas Ganster yesterday resigned. Ganster had served a year and Tomlinson was appointed in February. McMann was formerly a policeman, but resigned some years ago and went back on the force a few weeks ago. He is guarding the borough alone now.

Pure Milk for McKees Rocks.

The McKees Rock council passed an ordinance on second reading last night, providing for the analysis of milk sold in the borough. The milk will be required to be up to the standard adopted by Pittsburgh and the board of health has purchased instruments to be used in testing. Complaint has been made by many doctors in the borough that the milk is adulterated.

RIVERS CLAIM FOUR VICTIMS

Deadly "Devils Hole" in Youghiogheny Adds to Its Long List of Fatalities.

BOY LOSES LIFE IN POND

Local streams claimed more victims yesterday. The intense heat drove men and boys to the rivers to bathe, and the tragedies in most cases took place before the eyes of companions helpless to render aid. In addition to those whose lives are known to have been lost, one other is supposed to have drowned.

THE VICTIMS:

HARRY WALKER, aged 18, of Port Vue, drowned in the "Devil's Hole," in the Youghiogheny river.

ALEXANDER WORRALL, aged 12, of Port Vue, drowned at "Devil's Hole" Youghiogheny river.

WILLIAM HUBBERT, aged 14, of No. 27 Kirkpatrick street, drowned in a pool at Soho and Emmett streets.

CORNELIUS HENNESSEY, aged 18, of rear of No. 194 Main street, West End, drowned in the Ohio river at the foot of Main street.

Death in Devil's Hole.

At "Devil's hole" in the Youghiogheny river, Harry Walker lost his life while trying to save that of Alexander Worrall. At noon the boys went to the river to swim. Worrall undressed faster than his companion and entered the water first. He took but a few strokes when he sank. Before going down he called to his companion who had partly disrobed.

Walker jumped in the water with part of his clothing on. He grabbed young Worrall, who dragged him under the water. Walker managed to bring his companion to the surface, but the burden was too much for him and Worrall pulled him down again and neither came up. The accident was witnessed by several small boys, who summoned the workmen from the McKeesport tin plate works. Several of the workmen dived for the bodies, but were unable to locate them. Later grappling hooks were secured and the bodies were taken from the river.

"Devil's hole" has long been regarded as a danger point. Several lives have been lost there. Joseph Fairbough, an employe of the McKeesport Ice Company, has taken 12 bodies for the pool. Walker and Worrall lived in adjoining houses in Scott street, Port Vue.

Cornelius Hennessey had been going to the swimming pool at the foot of Main street since it was located there by the police department. He was a favorite of Policeman John Murphy, who is stationed there as a life guard. Each day the boy would meet the guard, who would give him a swimming lesson. The boy would jump into the water and the guard would catch him.

Murphy was absent for about 30 minutes last evening and the boy, thinking he could swim sufficiently to enter alone, dived from the float. Companions witnessed the drowning and notified Murphy. The body was recovered later.

Drowned in the Red Pond.

William Hubbard, aged 14, of 27 Kirkpatrick street, was swimming in the old Red pond at Soho and Emmett streets. The boy dived from a raft and was seized with cramps and drowned before his companions could save him. David McWorrell and James Jordan, both of Soho street, recovered his body.

Search is being made for John Hartman, aged 7, a son of Frank Hartman, of 1514 Preble avenue, Allegheny, who was last seen on a sand float at the foot of Locust street, Allegheny, Wednesday evening. It is presumed the boy is drowned as David Donaldson, a watchman at the coal fleet of the Dilworth Coal Company saw a boy fall from the Iron City sand float that evening. A dozen men and boys dragged the river for the body yesterday, but it was not recovered.

The body of Peter Feeney, aged 10, who was drowned in the Allegheny river under the Union bridge Wednesday afternoon, was recovered in the Ohio river yesterday at the foot of Locust street. The boy jumped out of a skiff in which he and two companions were rowing.

The body of a man found in the Youghiogheny river Wednesday at Dravosburg, was yesterday identified as that of Owen Kozkork, who lost his life while swimming on July 3.

ONE LESSON IS LEARNED FROM PRESENT WAR

Conning Towers on Battleships to Be Discontinued, as They Are Two Easy Mark.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—It is reported at the New York navy yard today that the conning tower as is at present in use on United States warships will be discontinued or so modified as to cease to be the central control station of the ships' movements. The towers were designed as a place of security for the officer directing the ship and contain means of communicating with other parts of the ship and is a center of much sensitive apparatus, which might easily be disarranged. In the recent naval battles in the far east the Japanese concentrated a heavy fire on the towers, the communication system was dislocated and some of the Russian ships rendered unmanageable.

It is reported that not only will the conning towers be discontinued in the new battleships yet to be built, but that they will be altered or modified in present ships including the Maine, Missouri, Kentucky, Kearsarge and Illinois.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY MAN MEETS DEATH ON PRAIRIE

Texas Justice Writes to Sheriff Dickson to Find Z. B. McMillan's Relatives.

Z. B. McMillan, a citizen of Allegheny county, was found dead on a Texas prairie on June 28 with considerable money and valuables on the body. An effort is being made by the authorities of Rio Frio, Texas, to locate his relatives, to whom full information of the circumstances of his death will be given. The directory does not show the name and address of such a person in Pittsburgh or Allegheny, but he may have resided at some point not covered by the local directory.

The facts in the case were communicated in a letter to Sheriff James W. Dickson by Edward A. Kelly, justice of the peace of precinct No. 5, Bandera county, Texas, but full particulars are withheld until some relative claims the effects of the dead man. The letter reads:

RIO FRIO, TEXAS, June 28, 1905.

Sheriff Allegheny, Pennsylvania:

Dear Sir—A man by the name of Z. B. McMillan, supposed to be from your county, was found dead the 28th. Had been dead two or three days when found. He has enough to about pay his funeral expenses. If he has any relatives you know of, tell them to write me and I will give them the full particulars. Please write me at once, as what little he has will have to be disposed of at once. Respectfully,

ED. A. KELLY,
J. P. Prct. No. 5, Bandera county, Texas.

Sheriff Dickson made inquiries through his deputies, but could not locate such a man, although from the letter it is evident the dead man had some letters on his person which indicated he had come from Allegheny county, Pa. The police departments have not received descriptions of any missing man of that name, although it is possible the dead man may have been a drummer for an Allegheny county manufacturing concern and his relatives are not aware that anything has happened to him. Sheriff Dickson will continue his efforts to locate McMillan's family, if he has any in this county.

German Government Interdicts French Socialist's Proposed Address in Berlin.

PRECEDENTS ARE CITED

BERLIN, July 6.—Chancellor von Buelow telegraphed to Prince Radolin, the German ambassador at Paris today to inform M. Jaures, the French socialistic leader, that the German government thought it best to debar him from speaking in Berlin, July 9, as it had been announced he intended to.

The chancellor's telegram to Prince von Radolin states that against the personality of M. Jaures he has nothing to say. "I respect his views on foreign policy," he continues, "and not infrequently agree with them. I am glad that on several occasions he has promoted friendly relations between Germany and France. The personal value of M. Jaures is not considered, but the political role placed upon him."

M. JAURES.

He is a French Socialist who has been refused permission to make an address in Berlin.

Von Buelow cites instances of the French government's interdiction of speeches which it had been announced were to be made by members of the German reichstag and then says: "Even although it were to be expected that Herr Jaures would have the tact to avoid anything that might be unpleasant for the German and French government, one cannot have similar confidence in the German organizers of the meeting."

The invitation to M. Jaures came from the socialist executive committee ruling the party and was designed to advance the Socialist opposition to the government's Moroccan policy and to demonstrate the similarities of view on foreign questions of Socialists of all countries.

Allusions had been made in the reichstag by Chancellor von Buelow to the contrasts between Herr Bebel, the German Socialist leader and M. Jaures to the disadvantage of Herr Bebel, and an account has been circulated in the newspapers and not denied, that the emperor made a complimentary annotation on the margin of a newspaper clipping concerning M. Jaures, in his course in co-operating with the non-Socialistic parties on some public questions. Therefore, when some of the Conservatives concerns intimated that M. Jaures would not be allowed to speak the idea was not accepted generally. Whether Herr Bebel will speak in Paris as also announced is not certain, as Bebel himself is out of town. The French government forbade Herr Bebel from speaking in Paris six years ago, and the German government prohibited Herr Bueb, a member of the reichstag, from speaking on the French side of the frontier near Muelhausen, two years ago. Precedents are numerous in most of the continental states. Nevertheless, the exclusion of Mr. Jaures is certain to cause much discussion.

PARIS, July 6.—Something of a sensation has been created here by the announcement that Deputy Jaures, leader of the French Socialists, had been prohibited by the German government from speaking at Berlin next Sunday. The proposed address attracted much discussion owing to its significance as foreshadowing the common program to be adopted by the two countries.

M. Jaures' secretary tonight said that the deputy was preparing to leave for Berlin. He said that M. Jaures knew nothing of the interdiction, but that if the report proved true he would go all the same and find a way of delivering a speech.

DIVORCED IN AFTERNOON; MARRIED IN EVENING

LORAIN, O., July 6.—(Special.)—Divorced in the afternoon and married at 8 o'clock in the evening was the record of Tom C. Johnson, son of a leading lawyer of the county yesterday. He was divorced from Elizabeth Johnson of Wheeling and married to Miss Bertha Beverstock of Toledo. Johnson met his first wife while a student at Oberlin college, and his suit for divorce was asked on the allegation that he married the girl under threats of violence on the part of the girl's father.

DEARY IS CHARGED WITH PERJURY AND BIGAMY

Edward Deary was committed to jail last night for a hearing on charges of bigamy and perjury made by Mrs. A. M. Shannon before Alderman Edgar. The allegations against Deary are that he married a daughter of Mrs. Shannon 19 years ago and that last May he married Josephine Miller, and, although his first wife was living, that he swore she was dead.

SUCCESSFUL TEST OF A NEW EXPLOSIVE

Shell Loaded With It Will Crumple Side of the Armor Clad Vessel.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—That a 12-inch shell loaded with only a small charge of dunnite, the world's most effective explosive, will crumple in the side of the heaviest armor-clad vessel, though the shell fell short of its mark by 50 feet, has just been demonstrated at the beginning of a series of tests at the government proving grounds at Sandy Hook. Accompanied with a secrecy that has made the discussion of the result almost prohibitive, the first test was solely for the purpose of determining the safe distance that a huge target, built to represent a section of an armored side of a modern battleship, could be moored from the shore, and the observers assured of freedom from harm.

For some time experts of the ordnance department of the army have known of the destructive effect of the explosive substance, which, named after its inventor, Mad. Beverly W. Dunn, U. S. A., is a closely guarded government secret. Foreign nations have sought in vain to learn of its composition. Meanwhile the manufacture of armor-piercing shells filled with the explosive has gone on until now the arsenals of the United States are filled with them, and almost all the ships of the navy and the seacoast fortifications have a battle supply on hand and ready for any emergency.

To those who were fortunate enough to witness the recent trial, the affair was intensely spectacular. A floating mass of woodwork in dimension the side of a battleship at its water line, was moored off shore. Then delicately the 1,000-pound projectile, with a scant charge of 20 pounds of dunnite, was submerged four feet in the water and approximately 50 feet from the floating structure. Then all scattered to a place of safety, an electric button was pressed, those on shore felt the ground tremble, while a column of water shot up into the air 250 feet. When the target was again brought to shore, the effect of the explosion was plainly manifest and of such a nature that the deductions were readily drawn.

THOUSAND APPLICANTS FOR STATE POSITIONS

Health Commissioner Dixon's Appointments Are Very Much in Demand.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, July 6.—State Health Commissioner Dixon will defer the appointment of the ten district health officers authorized by the act creating this department until after he has his office in smooth running order. He has already received 1,000 applications for these positions, the salary of which is $2,500 a year. He feels that he should go slow in making his selections, so as to get the very best men.

Dr. Dixon will retain, at least for the present, the agents of the old state board of health in each county. He is taking steps to secure registrars throughout the state who will report the deaths, the prevalence of contagious diseases and other matters of sanitary importance. These registrars will be paid by the local authorities of their respective districts.

The commissioner today called upon Gov. Pennypacker and submitted his plans for the organization of the department. They were approved by the governor.

CORK COMPANY GAINS POINT.

Pittsburgh Concern Granted Temporary Injunction in Labor Dispute at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—(Special.)—A temporary injunction was granted today by Judge McPherson of the United States circuit court to the Armstrong Cork Company of Pittsburgh, against the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association, the firm of Widman, Walsh & Boisselier, architects, and the officers of the building trades council of St. Louis, restraining them from boycotting or in any way making effective a boycott against the business of the Armstrong Cork Company, now engaged in filling a contract on the hop and rice building being erected by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association.

The order was made returnable July 25. The petitioners claim that since the commencement of the contract they have been hampered by officers of the building and trades council, who insisted that they either employ members of the council to do the work or force their men to join the union. The work requires skilled artisians, it is alleged, and cannot be done by members of the union, and furthermore the petitioners refuse to force their men into the union.

PITTSBURGH BOY HELD.

Baltimore Sleuth Accuses Him of Opening Woman Shopper's Side Satchel in a Store.

BALTIMORE, MD., July 6.—(Special.)—Benjamin Lewis, a boy 12 years of age, son of Hyman Lewis, a tailor living at No. 11 Elm street, Pittsburgh, was before Justice Packard of the juvenile court today, charged with being a suspicious character and was temporarily placed in the house of refuge. A private detective employed in a department store said he saw Lewis open a side satchel hung at the belt of a lady customer who lives at Mount Washington, but who, on inquiry informed him she had lost nothing. This was the only direct evidence against the boy. Lawyers who appeared for the boy offered to put him on a train for Pittsburgh, but Justice Packard concluded to hold him to hear from the boy's parents, as there was no assurance he would return to Pittsburgh even if placed on a train.

San Franciscans Get Monopoly.

MANILA, July 6.—The Philippine commission has passed an act granting to John I. Sabin and Louis Glass of San Francisco, Cal., a franchise to construct telephone and telegraph systems throughout the Philippine islands.

EXPLODING LAMP MAY END LIVES OF TWO CHILDREN

Physicians Give No Hope for Sisters—Father and Brother Are Seriously Burned—Mother Is Prostrated by the Tragedy.

Two little girls were fatally burned and their father and little brother suffered serious injuries last night by the explosion of a lamp in a house in Robinson road, Spring Hill, Allegheny. The injured are:

CHARLES BRANDT, aged 40; burned about the hands and face.

EMMA BRANDT, aged 14; burned all over and will die.

MARIE BRANDT, aged 5; burned about chest and abdomen, and will die.

ARTHUR BRANDT, aged 11; burned about legs.

The explosion occurred while the children were playing about the kitchen table at 8:20 o'clock. The children were alone in the room at the time, and it is not known exactly what caused the explosion. It is supposed that while playing one of the little girls jerked the tablecloth and upset the lamp, which exploded immediately. The screams of the little ones and the flash of the explosion brought the father from the yards, where he was conversing with Gotlieb Fischer, a neighbor. Mrs. Brand was upstairs and rushed down to find all her children in flames and the father frantically struggling with them in his efforts to tear from their bodies the blazing clothes. The mother fainted and this probably saved her from serious burns.

Mr. Fischer and other neighbors ran in and assisted in extinguishing the flames, and an alarm of fire was sent in. When the firemen arrived the flames had been subdued and the children were writhing on the floor in agony.

Drs. I. N. Lear and Robert B. Ferree were telephoned for and soon arrived. They found the burns of the little girls were frightful and said there was little hope of saving either of them. It is not likely, they said, that either would live until morning. The father and little Arthur are less seriously burned. Although the boy was suffering terribly and in such condition that he may be crippled for life, he stood bravely aside and endured the pain while the physicians attended his little sisters.

Mrs. Brandt swooned time and again during the night and is prostrated. Her condition is serious and demanded the attention of the physicians.

WILL LEARN HOW NEW HUMP LOOKS

Director Bigelow to Chaperone Finance Committee Over the Debated Territory.

SOUTH SIDE WANTS TO KNOW

The finance committee will meet this afternoon to be escorted over the Fifth avenue hump district by Director Bigelow. The members will gather in the city hall at 12 o'clock, and as soon as a quorum is present the party will start out on the hump exploration.

It is Director Bigelow's intention to show to the members of the committee just what the 15-foot cut in the hump means. City engineers will carry with them maps and profiles of the projected grades. At various places on the hump the party will stop and listen to explanations from the director and the city engineers, and it is believed that before the committee adjourns it will have in its collective mind a picture of the appearance the erstwhile hump will wear when the improvement is finished.

When the hump is removed under the present plans of a 15-foot cut, the rise from Smithfield street to the highest part, at Fifth and Wylie avenues, will be one of 25 feet; the present height is nearly 40 feet. The present grade is 8 per cent. Under the plan of an 18-foot cut the grade would have been cut down a little less than 4 per cent; with a 15-foot cut it will become a 6 per cent grade, that is, Fifth avenue will rise six feet in every 100 feet, instead of eight feet in every 100, as at present.

Mr. Bigelow said he thought the hump election ought to be held on August 15, and he thinks councils ought to be able to pass an ordinance calling for a bond election on that date.

Director Bigelow has set his heart on securing the votes of the South Side residents for his pet project of removing the Fifth avenue hump, and he is now getting ready to accede to the request of the South Side councilmen that the city acquire the South Side water plant. The South Siders, or many of them, would like to have the city buy the company's stock, but the director favors condemnation proceedings. He and the mayor and the South Side councilmen will soon confer regarding the steps which ought to be taken.

Select Councilman J. W. Ruhlandt has told Director Bigelow that the South Side will vote against the hump removal bonds, unless the city agrees to buy out the Monongahela Water Company. Until the water company has either been bought out or its contract has been declared forfeited, the city may not supply the South Side with water, and as that section of the city wants filtered water from the city's plant, the councilmen from the district say it will vote against a bond issue for the removal of the hump.

SOCIETY GIRL ELOPES IN GOOD OLD FASHION

Daughter of Wealthy Beaver Citizen Climbs Out of Window and Is Married in Toledo.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, July 6.—Miss Ethel Stewart, a prominent Beaver society girl, and daughter of J. W. Stewart, general manager of the Fallston Fire Clay Company, was successful yesterday in her second attempt to elope, having eluded her parents and gone with Charles Patterson to Toledo, O., where they were married yesterday.

Mr. Patterson is night operator at the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad station here. His acquaintance with Miss Stewart, who is 20 years old, was of two week's duration. Her parents, it is said, forbid her to see Patterson.

Miss Stewart left her parents' handsome home in East Third street early yesterday morning through an upper rear window, and is thought to have been assisted to the ground by a ladder held in place by her lover. The couple took a train for Cleveland. In the meantime Miss Stewart's parents discovered her absence, and her father telephoned to all points where the couple would likely go, among other places to Cleveland, and directed no license be granted the two.

A few minutes later the couple applied for a license in Cleveland and were refused. They then went to Toledo and were successful. They have not returned home. About a year ago Miss Stewart tried to elope with another man, but was brought home by her father.

FIVE MEN ARE KILLED IN A MINE EXPLOSION

Disaster Occurs in a Shaft Being Sunk by the Taylor Coal and Coke Company at Searights.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNIONTOWN, July 6.—As the result of an explosion in the shaft being sunk at the works of the Taylor Coal and Coke Company at Searights, six miles west of Uniontown, at 5 o'clock this morning, five men were killed and four injured. They are: John Carter, negro; Walter Williams, negro; Sam Davis, Charles Spacha and Mike Chaodan. George Thomas, the negro foreman, is in a critical condition.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Mining men say it could hardly have been gas, as gas is rarely found until the vein of coal is reached. The shaft is down 84 feet and the coal is at a depth of about 240 feet. Coroner A. S. Hagan will investigate. The sinking of the shaft is in charge of Patterson & McNeil.

The men who were killed were about 20 feet below the surface preparing for concrete near the top of the shaft.

PROMOTION IN COAL COMPANY

J. I. Boyd Becomes Purchasing Agent of United Coal Company.

J. I. Boyd has been made purchasing agent for the United Coal Company. Mr. Boyd has been serving as assistant to J. D. O'Neill, manager of the river department of the company, and the change comes as a well deserved promotion. Mr. Boyd's position as assistant to Mr. O'Neill will be filled by his brother, William Boyd.

Capt. A. N. Green left yesterday for New Orleans, whence he will take a steamer for Central America. Capt. Green goes there to resume his command of the steamer James Detrick, which is in the Coco and Wasbook river trade. The Detrick was built in this city by the James Rees & Sons Company. Capt. Green has been at home for a month on a vacation trip. He likes the Central American country, despite the heat, yellow fever, sand flies, malaria and a few other trifles of that nature, and believes that all it needs to make it one of the most favored spots on the globe is the completion of the isthmian canal.

Capt. James Henderson of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet line continues to improve and yesterday was able to sit up. No danger is now anticipated from his recent attack of heat prostration.

The Bessie Smith, from Parkersburg, in place of the Ben Hur, and the Columbia, from Morgantown, were the only packets in yesterday.

The Lorena, from Zanesville, and the Greenland, from Charleston, will be in today, along with the J. C. Woodward from Morgantown.

Capt. Arthur Moren has returned from Louisville and Cincinnati.

P. C. Adams, chief draughtsman in the office of the supervising architect at Washington, is in Pittsburgh inspecting the ground at the old arsenal which has been decided upon by the government as a site for a marine hospital. Mr. Adams probably will recommend a building on the plan of that built in Detroit. The government has appropriated $120,000 for the building.

SMALL SALARIES PAID TO TEACHERS

Committee's Report to Educational Association Shows Very Low Wages for Women.

CONVENTION ELECTS OFFICERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—July 6.—The National Educational association today elected the following officers: President, Nathan C. Shaeffer, Pennsylvania; first vice president, William Maxwell, New York city; second vice president, Miss N. Cropsey, Indiana; third vice president, J. H. Hemenway, Arkansas; secretary, Irwin Shepard, Winona, Minnesota; treasurer, J. A. Wilkinson, Kansas.

At the afternoon session of the convention, the committee on salaries, tenure and pensions of public school teachers submitted its report which says, among other things:

The facts collected relating to salaries represent 35 per cent of the cities and towns of 8,000 or more inhabitants. Such cities and towns in the United States number 347 and employ nearly 100,000 teachers. From 463 of these, or 90 per cent, salary data more or less complete, were secured, and for 427, or 85.4 per cent, complete reports were received.

The total number of teachers and supervising officers in the 467 cities and towns was 92,882. Of this number 79,230, or 75.6 per cent, were teachers (not including principals) in elementary schools, and all except 1,500 of the latter number were women. That is to say, the women teachers in the elementary schools constitute 74 per cent of the entire number of persons employed either as teachers or in supervisory positions in connection with the schools of these 467 cities. High school teachers (not including principals) make up 8,052 or 8.6 per cent of the whole number, and principals of elementary schools 6,213, or 6.7 per cent.

High School Salaries.

The average salary of high school teachers (not including principals) was $1,046, the average for the women separately being 1065, and for the men separately $1,503. This large difference between the averages for women and men is due to a considerable extent to the fact that such a large per cent of the men are in the cities of 250,000 population or over, where salaries are high as compared with those in the city of average size. The average yearly salary of principals of high schools was $1,120, the average for women separately being $970, and for the men separately $1,542.

The average yearly salary of the teachers in elementary schools was $661, the average for the women separately being $650 and for the men separately $1,151. More than one-half of the teachers in elementary schools are in the three largest cities, with population of 1,000,000 or over—New York, Chicago, and Philadelphia—where salaries are relatively high.

The average salaries of all classes of teachers for all the cities decrease steadily with the decrease in the size of the cities.

Of the 2,874 male teachers (not including principals) in high schools in the 467 cities, who receive an average salary of $1,205, 13.35 per cent received $2,000 or over, and 29.27 per cent received less than $1,000. Of the 5,447 female teachers in high schools in the 467 cities, who receive an average salary of $808, only 0.68 per cent received as much as $2,000, while 67.3 per cent received less than $750. The group containing the largest percentage of all the male teachers was that under $1,000, with 31.38 per cent, while for female teachers it was $650 or under $750, with 17.38 per cent.

Of the 2,378 male principals of elementary schools in the 467 cities, receiving an average salary of $1,542, 24.81 per cent received $2,000 or over and 29.11 per cent received less than $1,000 each. Of the 5,835 women principals receiving an average salary of $870, 8.13 per cent received $2,000 or over, while 65.86 per cent received less than $1,000 and 42.50 per cent received less than $750; the group containing the largest percentage of all was $900, or under $700, with 18.15 per cent.

Small Pay for Women.

Of the 1,492 male teachers in elemental schools in 467 cities receiving an average salary of $1,161, 10.31 per cent received $1,600 or over, while 19.31 per cent received less than $800. Of the 65,664 women teachers in elementary schools in the 467 cities receiving an average salary of $650, only 0.37 per cent received as much as $1,000 even, while 44 per cent received less than $500 and 7.13 per cent received less than $400; the group containing the largest percentages of all was $450 or under $550, with 20.88 per cent, while 20.35 per cent received $600 or under $700.

While the average yearly salaries of female teachers (not including principals) in elementary schools in the cities is $650, the average for the same class of teachers when the four great cities of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston are not included, is $656, or $54 less. The average for male elementary teachers in the 467 cities is $1,161, while in the 463 cities it is $967, or $194 less. These four cities employ altogether 24,999 teachers and supervising officers, or 26.9 per cent of the entire number reported as employed by the 467 cities. The total amount paid to these teachers for salaries constituted 37.5 per cent of the total amount paid out for salaries for teachers of those classes in the entire 467 cities.

Salary Laws on Increase.

A movement toward establishing a minimum salary law by state enactment has had support in several states, and in Indiana, Maryland, Pennsylvania and in West Virginia such a law has already been adopted and put in operation.

The teachers of long service, from information gathered by the committee, constituted a considerable portion of the total number, 3.6 per cent of the men and 0.6 per cent of the women having taught 40 years or over, while 19 per cent of the men and 4.5 per cent of the women had taught 20 years or over. Of all the teachers in 353 cities of 8,000 population or over, 51.7 per cent had taught less than 10 years.

Hardly a beginning has as yet been made in the United States towards creating a system of pensions for teachers. In making this statement the committee desires to emphasize the distinction between a pension system properly so-called, and all the various schemes of mutual aid, including retirement funds and old age stipends that have been organized and are maintained principally by the teachers themselves, and at their own expense. In this latter the United States, which might have been expected to go far in advance of other countries if the general interest in public school education alone had been made the basis of prediction, has in reality fallen behind.

In Memoriam.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the German National Bank, held today, July 5, 1905, the following minute was adopted in relation to the death of the late Edward J. Frauenheim, vice president of this bank:

By the death of Edward J. Frauenheim, which occurred on June 28, 1905, at his home in this city, this bank lost the services of a faithful, capable and conscientious officer. Mr. Frauenheim was a director of this institution since his early manhood and in recent years was its vice president. In his long and creditable service he discharged his duty with the strictest regard to the highest standard of integrity, and with the keenest sense of official obligation. He was peculiarly guided by a wholesome respect for the conscientious discharge of duty and always acted upon a lofty sense of honesty. Added to these traits he possessed an unfaltering quality of courage. His judgment was keen but conservative and when he erred he was ever ready to admit and always anxious to correct a mistake. He possessed attributes that combined to make an ideal bank officer.

He was called away in the youth of middle age, but in his short career made a record of which his family and friends may justly be proud. His loss as a counsellor in the business of this institution, his absence from the various affairs of life in which he was a prominent and conspicuous figure and the irreparable void made in his domestic circle cannot be estimated.

We deeply mourn his untimely departure from our midst and we place upon the records of the bank this tribute to his memory with the feeling of genuine grief which must actuate all when called upon to meet the loss of one who proved himself worthy and upright in every relation of life.

SOCIETY

MR. AND MRS. HARRY KENDALL THAW have been occupying the Lodge, Mrs. William Thaw's country place near Cresson, for a week past and will remain there during the greater part of the summer. They are almost the only Pittsburgh people this season who are at Cresson, once so popular as a Pittsburgh resort. The A. E. W. Painter cottage has been rented and several other cottages are occupied by officials of the Pennsylvania railroad and their families. The Thaw Lodge is several miles from the station and stands isolated in the midst of wooded slopes upon the estate, one of the most picturesque in the mountain region. Mrs. William Thaw during the past two weeks has been at French Lick Springs, Indiana, where she expects to remain a few weeks longer. She will spend a part of the summer at the Lodge. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. C. Thaw, is in Detroit visiting her father.

Club Dance in Edgeworth.

A very handsome affair was the dance given last evening at the Edgeworth clubhouse for the girls and men of the school and colleges who are home for the summer. A large number went down from Pittsburgh and Allegheny and composed several house parties in Sewickley. The ball room of the clubhouse was simply decorated. A number of the young girls who will be among the debutantes of next winter acted as the committee of arrangements, and included Miss Hester Singer, Miss Helen Witherow, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton and Miss Ruth Walker. The patronesses were Mrs. William Marcella Scaife, Mrs. Hay Walker, Jr., Mrs. John G. Pontefract, Mrs. J. Judson Brooks, Mrs. Henry Irwin, Jr., Mrs. Charles Frederick Holdship, Mrs. William Witherow, Mrs. Barton Singer, Mrs. William D. George and Mrs. Frank Biddle Smith. Miss Helen Witherow went down on Wednesday to be the guest of Miss Walker, who is with her family at the Walker summer home. Miss Harriet Balken is also Miss Walker's house guest. Miss Elizabeth Hamilton entertained Miss Katherine Jennings, Miss Mary Jennings, Miss Florence Gregg and Miss Helen Ayres. Miss Helen Taylor of Worcester, Mass., is visiting Miss Hester Singer.

Successful Garden Party.

A pretty garden party was conducted yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. W. J. Morris in Penn avenue. The grounds were decorated with flags and gay booths, presided over by a number of young girls, and the proceeds of the entertainment will be given to the fresh air fund. The whole affair was planned by Miss Bessie Wright, Miss Henrietta Shumaker, Miss Margaret and Miss Rachel Woods. They called in a number of their friends to assist. Miss Dorothy Shumaker, Miss Catherine McCutcheon and Miss Helen Balck presided over the ice cream tables; Mrs. W. H. Keller, Miss Margaret Woods and Miss Henrietta Shumaker were at the candy booth; Miss Bessie Botsford was in charge of the lemonade; Miss Bessie Wright and Miss Rachel Woods supervised the fish pond, and Miss Julia Ward had charge of the doll booths. There was a band concert during the evening, and within a gaudy tent a gypsy told the fortunes of the visitors.

Entertain in Sewickley.

Miss Salome McClung of Frederick avenue gave a luncheon at her home yesterday for a dozen of the young school girls. The honor guests were Miss Sybylle Prichett of West Philadelphia and Miss Edna Cosby and Miss Helen Adams of Toronto, Canada, who are visiting in the valley.

Mrs. Robert J. Cunningham of Bank street gave the first of a series of enjoyable affairs for her home yesterday afternoon. It was a bridge whist party and 24 guests were present. Mrs. Cunningham will entertain again this afternoon.

Mrs. Harry Hays gave an informal tea yesterday afternoon in honor of her house guest, Miss Madaline Brown of Swarthmore. The guests were of the young school and college set. About 30 were present.

Cook-Mann.

Miss Loretta Cook of Sylvan, Franklin county, and Luther C. Mann, Jr., of Cumberland were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. F. S. Witherow of Kenmawr avenue, Rankin. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Bauer, pastor of the Trinity Evangelical church of Braddock. Mr. and Mrs. Mann left for the home of the Rev. Luther A. Mann in Cumberland, the father of the bridegroom, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will live in South Cumberland.

Frederick Wineman, uncle of the groom and pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Windber. After a wedding trip to eastern cities Mr. and Mrs. Strickler will be at home in Corry.

Benefit for Allegheny Church.

Friends of Westminster church rallied to its support last evening at the musical and lawn fete conducted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Smyers in McClintock avenue, Allegheny. The lawn fete was conducted out of doors upon the lawn, but the house was crowded for the musicale. The program was presented by Miss Gertrude Vida McClure, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Anson J. Dilg, Mrs. Jackson and Messrs. Derrington, Drum, Arborgast, Borah and Jackson.

The Beggs in Southampton.

The total for yesterday was 2,962, and the flower committee this morning will arrange to distribute 3,000 bouquets. The committee will meet in the Carnegie library in the rear of the Music hall, and those who have flowers to contribute will report the committee through the door on the ground floor entrance in North Diamond street. The attendance recorded for yesterday in the different schools was as follows:

Thirty-two little girls attended the first session of the sewing school, which was opened yesterday afternoon in the new Soho settlement house, in Fifth avenue. The girls ranged between the ages of 8 and 12 years. Mrs. James C. Dick is in charge of this new feature of the work of the settlement, and is assisted by Mrs. William Wilkinson, who is the director. The hours of the class, which will be held weekly, on Thursday afternoons, are from 3 o'clock until 5, with a half an hour intermission for physical culture drills. There were simply conducted yesterday afternoon, consisting of the simplest forms of exercises. In a few weeks they will be conducted under the direction of a trained teacher. The work was laid out yesterday, and the children were instructed in the first principles of sewing. The entire equipment for the class of three months will be furnished by Mrs. Wilkinson, and at the end of that time a bazar will be held, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of further supplies for the school.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 6.—(Special.)—Arthur E. Bestor continued his series of lectures on "Studies in American Diplomacy" and lectured this morning on "The Diplomacy of the Civil War." In which he said:

"The present generation knows very little of the struggle known as the great civil war. It is now 40 years since the close of the war and the time has come when we can discuss the questions concerning the struggle without arousing animosities on either side. The most important problems were not settled on the field of battle. No careful study of American history can go far in the struggle without considering European intervention as a great danger. Lincoln had greater questions to face than had any other president. We must remember that during the years preceding the war southern influence predominated. One of Lincoln's first problems was the complete reorganization of the whole foreign service of the United States. The Republican party was young and few of its men had seen foreign service. Lincoln's secretary of state, although he had traveled abroad, had never been in the diplomatic service. While Lincoln, at the beginning of his administration, was unversed in foreign affairs and made some mistakes in the men sent to foreign posts, he made no mistakes in the home offices.

"Lincoln has become to us so great a man that we forget the opposition to him at the beginning of the war. There was a feeling in England that the Republican party was anxious for war with England. It was a surprise to many in the north that England was so unfriendly to that section. But England never looked with approval on the progress of the United States. She believed that a division of the Union and the organization of the south would help her in her commercial relations. It is also easy to understand why France was unfriendly. Napoleon knew it would be impossible to establish a government in Mexico if the Union remained solid."

DOINGS AT ATLANTIC CITY.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 6.—(Special.)—Two train loads of happy Pittsburghers are due here tonight in time to unpack their bathing suits and get ready for an initial plunge in the breakers tomorrow. Wilson, Pittsburgh, entertained Mrs. Walter J. Hoyt and Walter S. Hoyt at dinner at the Traymore today. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Read, Pittsburgh, visitors at the Raleigh, had Miss Margaret Greenwalt as their guest at luncheon.

THE FARMER'S HOME

SHARES IN THE BENEFITS OF SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS.

Mrs. L. O. Law Shows How the Burden of the Farmer's Wife May Be Lightened.

The traveler through fields of corn and grain in such states as Kansas, sees from the car windows numerous applications of modern inventive skill to the production of the farmer's wealth, and in every county seat he finds a large display of machinery for cultivating and harvesting crops. He cannot so readily learn to what extent the farmer's home has shared in the general advance, but he knows how essential to the farmer's happiness must be everything that ministers to the strength and cheerfulness of his partner—the faithful housewife. Thousands of farmers' wives, in the great west particularly, will read with interest the story of the struggle of one of their number to meet the constant demand upon her strength until she found that she was losing ground in the unequal contest, and must cease to be a helpmate and enter the class of confirmed invalids, if help did not come from some source that would renew her strength.

Mrs. L. O. Law of No. 224 North street, Horton, Kansas, says: "In 1895, while we were living on a farm in this neighborhood, I became generally debilitated as the result of overwork. I had serious indigestion, lost my appetite, suffered from a sense of suffocation and from obstruction of the circulation, so that artificial means had to be used to restore it. After suffering for months without finding any relief, I tried a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had seen advertised in a newspaper. The first few boxes made me lots better, and after using the third box I felt entirely well. About two years afterward I ran down again and immediately resumed taking the pills. In two months I was fully restored to vigor and have held the gain ever since. I am now in excellent health and am able not only to take care of my house, but also to assist my husband in a store which he has lately taken. Pink Pills have helped me every time I have taken them. They deserve to be recommended. They are so simple, so easily taken and so prompt in their action. I have said this to many already and am glad to say it to still more."

This remedy, being in the form of a pill, is manifestly free from alcohol, against which so much has been printed, and it is guaranteed to contain nothing that can injure the most delicate constitution. The pills can be obtained from all druggists and at most general stores.

BUTLER PLANK ROAD TO BE FREE

Commissioners Will Purchase the 15 Miles of the Highway in This County.

PROPERTY COSTS $65,000

Within 30 days the 15 miles of the Butler plank road in this county will be free to the people. It is to be purchased at a cost of $65,000.

The plank road starts from the Allegheny city line and extends to the town of Butler. Toll has been charged for many years and the hundreds of people who have been compelled to use the highway will be pleased to learn the road is to be free. The movement to have the 15 miles in this county condemned by the county was started several years ago by the people living along the road. Viewers were appointed and finally a valuation of $65,000 was placed on the property. The company owning the road was satisfied with the price, but the commissioners thought it was too high. They took an appeal with the intention of making a legal fight. Yesterday it was decided to withdraw the appeal. This means that within 30 days the court will confirm the viewers' report and the purchase money will be paid.

The part of the road purchased by the county begins at the western end of Millvale and has its terminus at the Butler county line. There are 15 miles of the road in Butler county. Allegheny county will probably not remove the planks for the present, as the road is in good condition. Eventually the highway will be macadamized.

The freeing of the road will be a great relief to the people along the whole line, and especially will it be pleasing to the residents of Millvale and Etna. These municipal corporations have not had control of the road. In Etna there is a toll gate in the middle of the town, which has been a source of much annoyance and expense to the residents of the borough.

With the freeing of the plank road, there will be just six miles of toll road left in the county. This is a stretch of Perrysville avenue, running from the Allegheny city line to McKeowns.

MOORE IS INDIGNANT.

But Wallace Thinks It Funny to Kidnap Young Bridal Couples.

Director Moore, of the public safety department, has awakened to the outrages committed by charivari parties who kidnap bridal couples and parade them through the streets, making fools of themselves and the bride and groom. The director said yesterday he would order the police to arrest the kidnapers in the future. His indignation was aroused by the treatment of F. C. Zimmerman and his bride, formerly Miss Louise Timmins, who were seized on the steps of the church at which they were married and made a holy show of in a circus wagon in the East End.

Superintendent of Police Wallace thinks such proceedings are funny, and he said yesterday that he would make no arrests of members of kidnaping parties. It is presumed he will adopt a different view when he fully understands Moore's views.

FENDERS STILL FAIL TO RESCUE THE DUMMY

Benjamin Lev Gets Indignant Because He Is Not Allowed to Make Personal Test.

Life-saving fenders were given the third and final test yesterday afternoon in South Negley avenue, between Penn and Center avenues. Mayor Hays, Director Moore, John Murphy, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, and P. J. Callahan, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the company, were present. Callahan operated all the cars while the tests were being made.

Eighteen fenders have been tested and out of the total number only two succeeded in picking up a dummy. None of the fenders tested yesterday afternoon proved of value, and in nearly every instance the dummy was crushed under the fender or went under the front trucks of the cars. The dummies were packed with sawdust and four of them were so badly mangled by the fender or trucks that in several instances sawdust was scattered for half a block along the street.

Benjamin Lev of the Eclipse Railway Supply Company, of Cleveland, O., had a car equipped with his company's fender, but because the officials present refused to allow him to stand in the way of his car to give it an opportunity to pick him up, Lev tore his fender from the car and refused to allow it to be tested with the dummy. Lev had his fender carted away in a wagon. He had a book of newspaper clippings and a lot of pictures showing his fender picking him up during the tests made at the World's fair at St. Louis, Mo.

A report of all the fenders tested will be made to Director Moore by the traction company. Director Moore, after the tests were completed, said he will have a conference with General Superintendent Murphy today and by Monday he will probably be able to say what will be done about equipping the 550 cars of the traction company with fenders. Lev claims his fender was given an unofficial test at the Homewood car barns two weeks ago, when it picked him up.

YACHT CLUB'S OPERA BOUFFE TOO MUCH FOR UNDERWOOD

Erie Railroad President Resigns Membership in Maritime Organization Because His Name Is Connected With Burlesque Debate.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad, today announced that he had resigned from the Atlantic Yacht club, which includes many millionaires among its members. To a reporter he admitted that the notoriety given him by a recent burlesque debate between two of the members, G. Patterson Early of Pittsburgh and J. Clarence Harvey of this city, which caused much humorous comment in the newspapers, was responsible for his action. Other men of high position, it is stated on authority, will also resign, believing their standing in high financial circles would be impaired if the public believed they took part in such opera bouffe entertainments.

In some of the reports of the dinner and "hot-air bout" Mr. Underwood was reported to have acted as referee. Today he denied that he was present during the contest, which occurred June 30.

The club sailed yesterday on its annual cruise with the yachts of some of the more conservative members absent.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY.

Painter Has Two Union Officials Held for Court.

Frank E. Smith, fourth vice president of the Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators' association of America, and A. Fifth, business agent of the local union, were held for court in $500 bail each by Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday on a charge of conspiracy made by C. A. Rosenberger.

Rosenberger claims that he was discharged while engaged as painter at the county morgue because he did not belong to the same union as the defendants, and brought action against five other men who were discharged. The trouble is said to be due to the fact that there are two painters' unions.

WILL NOT EXACT PENALTY.

Delay in High School Improvements Due to Labor Troubles.

The High School committee last night decided not to exact the penalty for delay from William Miller's Sons, who had the contract for remodelling the top floor of the Fifth avenue building. The architect recommended that the penalty for delay be collected from the firm, and that a bond be demanded to insure the replacing of work that might kink, unseasoned wood having been used in some places. A subcommittee, to which the matter had been referred, reported the delays were due to strikes and lockouts and the penalty should not be collected. The recommendation of the architect relating to the bond was approved. The sub-committee's report was adopted.

Prof. R. F. Patterson, teacher of languages at the Central High school, was given a vacation for one year. He has been at the school for 21 years and this is his first extended vacation.

FIRE PROOFING ISSUES $1,000,000 OF BONDS

Subsidiary Concern Is Used for the Purpose and the Floating Debt Is Removed.

The entire floating debt of the National Fireproofing Company has been removed and some additional working capital provided by an issue of $1,500,000 5 per cent bonds. These bonds are issued by the Federal Clay Company, an underlying concern of the National, and are guaranteed by the National. The Federal company had an earlier issue, but it was paid off. The present issue is the only one the National has in any form.

The bonds have been underwritten by Pittsburgh banks. The price realized was par, less commission, said to be 5 per cent. The company had floating indebtedness of various kinds aggregating approximately $500,000.

About a year ago the stockholders of the company voted it the right to issue more stock, but after further consideration this course was deemed not so advantageous as the bond issue. There will therefore be no additional stock issued.

The meeting of the National board takes place July 25, when the dividend will be acted upon. An officer of the company said last evening that there was not the slightest question concerning favorable action on the dividend. He stated also that the bond issue places the company in an excellent condition financially. The company has $8,000,000 preferred stock and $4,000,000 common.

A LOVELY COMPLEXION
New York Lady Proves That Every Woman May Have It By USING CUTICURA SOAP
Mrs. R. Reichenberg, wife of the well-known jeweller of 146 Fulton St., New York, says: "I had a friend who was justly proud of her complexion. When asked what gave her such a brilliant and lovely complexion, she replied, 'A healthy woman can be sure of a fine skin if she will do as I do, use plenty of Cuticura Soap and water.' She insisted that I follow her example, which I did with speedy conviction. I find that Cuticura Soap keeps the skin soft, white, and clear, and prevents redness and roughness."

We take pleasure in putting into print a clothing sale announcement which will prove to be the greatest sensation for many years in retail clothing circles; and we speak advisedly.

We purchased the entire made-up clothing stock of Michaels-Stern & Co.

At less than 50c on the dollar

Our fourth floor resembles a political convention . . . For the men came to this great clothing sale in couples, groups, companies ---yes, and even regiments. Were YOU among the crowds that attended the first day's sale?

There is a wide gulf between the general run of contemporary clothing sales and this great sale of the entire made-up clothing stock of this world-famed Rochester, N. Y., concern.

The garments made by the Michaels-Stern & Co. now offered by us at less than 50c on the dollar are direct evidence of what good clothes makers can do when armed with the will, the facility and the talent. Their clothing is a direct rebuke to the belief---prevalent in some quarters---that ready-to-wear clothes cannot attain the general excellence of custom-made. Come to our fourth floor today, make critical examinations, and prove to yourself far better than tongue or pen can do that this is the lowest priced clothing sale on record.

All suits made by Michaels-Stern & Co. to retail for $12.50, $15 and $18 to go on sale at . . . .

CHICAGO, July 6.—Clarke's relentless sluggers pushed Chicago another notch farther away from the top in the national league race today when they fell on the much-touted Reulbach so hard that the game was never really in doubt, and was finally chalked up in their favor 5 to 2. Once the Chicagoans tied up the count through some off-side play on the part of the visitors, but Dave Brain, the St. Louis recruit, came right back with a screamer that swept for a circuit of the bases. Two more tallies were secured, but they proved to be of use only as good measure.

When Fred Clarke came out to the park in the afternoon he took occasion to spike the report that came from the home city that Brain's acquisition meant his retirement from the game. "I do not intend to quit baseball at the end of the season, as some of the reports have me doing," said Clarke. "I have a contract with the Pittsburgh club for one more year and then it may be that I will want to retire, but I am not saying so at present. A manager of a baseball team has more excitement time in the world. I want to see one more pennant won by the Pittsburgh team before I quit."

Deacon Phillippe loomed up in the pitchers' box and his speed and curves aided materially to make the downfall of the Cubs sure. When hits were needed the deacon grew stingy and there was nothing doing. Reulbach's erratic and his wildness at times proved costly. The two runs scored by Chicago in the fifth came as a generous gift. Strange to say, the scores resulted from the catch of a pop-up foul off the first base line.

When the play came off Tinker was on first and Chance pawing the ground about third base, where he had landed when Carisch threw wild to catch him at second. Every hit a foul and Howard went after it. He captured the ball all right and Evers was out, but Tinker started to race for second and Chance led off for the plate. Howard, apparently not seeing Chance, threw to second and the ball went hard and high, where Evers was covered at the left field fence both Chance and Tinker had scored. That was the only bad inning for the deacon. He had passed both men to first and his teammates furnished the rest. From then on Phillippe was invincible and signalized the ninth inning by striking out three men in succession.

The Pirates took the lead when they batted Wagner around in the second inning for the first run. In the fifth a little slowness on the part of Shulte in left field let a man score from first on nothing more than a good single. In the last of the fifth, however, the Cubs made their first run and it looked as though they might be able to land a victory.

Davy Brain soon turned the tide again toward Pittsburgh, for in the next inning he smashed the ball to the club house and made the round for a home run. It was one of the prettiest home run hits of the season and makes Brain look good even among the famous sluggers on Clarke's team. The other two runs for the visitors came in the seventh when Reulbach and Kling had their patch of trouble. A wild pitch and a passed ball was the main cause of the scoring. The score:

GAMES IN TRI-STATE.

Williamsport Takes a Double Header from the Crippled Altoona Team.

WILLIAMSPORT, July 6.—Williamsport won both games of today's double-header from Altoona after exciting contests. Altoona could get but three hits off Applegate, one of them being a ball that hit the umpire. In the second contest, which lasted ten innings, Manning pitched for Altoona, a great battle resulting. He was only retired in order to start a batting rally. Pitchie pitched the tenth inning and his single brought in the winning run. Score:

STOCK MARKET RALLIED, CLOSING FIRM AND HIGHER

Another New High Record Made for Reading Common—National Fire Proofing Preferred a Weak Feature in Pittsburgh.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

While the New York stock market was not so active yesterday as on the day before, the tone was firmer, and as a rule closing prices were higher. Traders looked to see Wednesday's reaction go farther, and there was some selling at the opening on this theory; but offerings were readily absorbed, and the advance was resumed. In this respect the market resembled that of last year, when there was a very general feeling that with the presidential election impending, and with the crops not yet secured, the market should go slow. There is no presidential election this year, but there is the same crop uncertainty, and there are some factors in the situation the outcome of which are as yet uncertain. Still, for the past three weeks there have been but two days on which the market was reactionary, and the rapidity of the recovery has been surprising.

The London market for American securities was steady to firm, and while the operations of foreigners did not count for much, the operations of the large professional traders in Wall street counted for a great deal. Reading was taken in hand and again advanced to a new high record, touching 107⅝ and closing at 107, a net gain of 2½ per cent for the day. The short interest in this stock is believed to be enormous, and the original bull pool yesterday had the aid of the Western clique in advancing prices and this added to the uneasiness of the shorts. The Erie issues were also active and closed higher. In the afternoon while Reading was left to take care of itself, traders took up Union Pacific and that stock became the leader. It advanced to 130⅝ and closed at 130¾, a net advance of 1⅜ per cent.

St. Paul was one of the strongest of the high-class investments, advancing to 180¼ and closing with a gain of 1 per cent for the day. The company made an excellent report of operations for May, showing an increase of $359,118 in gross and $254,556 in net. Great Northern reported an increase in gross earnings for June of $421,000, showing that business in that territory was being fully maintained. In the south Louisville & Nashville reported an increase of $178,000 in gross earnings for June, and in the southwest Texas & Pacific reported an increase of $65,000 for the month. These reports of gross and net earnings were no doubt influential in sustaining prices for railroad stocks.

United States Steel was fairly active and firm all day, and while it did not close at the highest, both common and preferred recorded a recovery from Wednesday's reaction. Tennessee Coal and Iron was strong, advancing to 61¼ and closing at a net gain of 1 per cent. Colorado Fuel and Iron closed 1¼ per cent higher and Republic Iron and Steel ⅞ per cent higher. Amalgamated Copper was again slow in responding to the advancing tendency, but late in the afternoon it rallied to 82¾, the gain for the day being ⅝ per cent. Sugar and Smelting were among the few stocks which closed lower, and their loss was only fractional. United States Rubber closed 2⅜ per cent higher and Railway Steel Springs 1⅞ higher.

Commodity markets were active and irregular. Cotton was strong and closed higher. Wheat declined rather sharply in the early trading, rallied but again turned weak at the close. Two of the recognized crop experts agreed in estimating a winter wheat yield of 355,000,000 bushels, which is 60,000,000 bushels below the estimate based upon the June government report, but statistics were not effective in supporting yesterday's market.

Call loan rates ranged between 2½ and 2 per cent, closing at 2½ per cent bid. The foreign government banks reported the usual expansion in loans and decrease in reserve which occurs at this season, but which is not significant of actual money market conditions.

The weakness in National Fire Proofing preferred and the strength of Crucible Steel preferred were the only prominent features of the local stock market, aside from its dullness. Fire Proofing preferred declined to 33¾ and closed at 33¾ bid. It was reported that progress was being made with an issue of bonds the proceeds of which will be used to liquidate floating debt and furnish additional working capital. The common stock closed unchanged at 9½. Crucible Steel preferred rallied to and closed at 63¾, and the common closed unchanged at 10¾. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to and closed at 63. There were no transactions here in the common, but in New York it sold at 15 and 14⅞, the latter being the final sale. Westinghouse Electric was firmer, selling at 83¾. Manufacturers Light and Heat declined to 24½.

A seat in the Pittsburgh stock exchange sold at $8,000, a decline of $1,000 from the last previous sale.

There was a good demand for Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville bonds, which sold at 102⅝, an advance of ½ per cent, and counting the semi-annual coupon which came off this month the price is equivalent to the highest ever quoted. River Coal bonds sold at 111½ and 111⅝. The market closed extremely dull.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The case with which the New York stock market recovered yesterday and the short duration of the reaction shows that the leadership is strong. The investment and trading public is disposed to wait for a sharp reaction, feeling that the present range of prices is not justified until the crops are assured, but reactions have been as shortlived as those which accompanied the remarkable rise in Union Pacific and stocks of that class last year. Experience with speculative markets warrants the expectation that after two or three weeks of steady advance there should be two or three days of moderate reaction, but the thing which keeps alive interest in the speculation is the fact that experience does not count except over a long stretch of time. The present upward movement had its inception in a decided change from extreme stagnation in the early part of June to a normal degree of activity, which has been well sustained, and while the recovery has been in progress there have been more developments of an unfavorable character, sentimental and actual, than of a favorable character. If Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific should increase their dividends next week, however, a fresh impetus will be given to the bull movement.

The Humboldt Fire Insurance Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 4 per cent on demand.

The Harbison-Walker Refractories Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 20 to stock of record July 10.

The Consolidated Ice Company of Pittsburgh has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 20 to stock of record July 10.

The decline of $1,000 in Pittsburgh stock exchange seats is a natural result of the falling off in business in the local stock market. The cause of this falling off is well known. Several of our most prominent industrials suspended or reduced dividends. Doubts have been entertained as to the maintenance of present rates by others. Some of the most prominent traders on the local board are carrying unproductive stocks. They have faith in the ultimate outcome, but for the present they are not increasing their holdings of stocks and are not noysing customers to buy except for a long pull. In some respects the local stock market situation resembles that of 1899 to 1896, when the Westinghouse stocks, natural gas and traction companies were undergoing difficulties. There is certain to be a recovery from present conditions, but no one feels competent to fix the date for improvement to begin.

The Union National bank of Braddock has declared its initial dividend of 2 per cent quarterly. The institution has been in operation 18 months and has $200,000 capital.

National Fireproofing directors meet next Thursday to take action on the quarterly dividend and the usual 1¼ per cent quarterly is looked for.

The Daily Bond Buyer reports municipal bond sales for June $22,721,257, against $48,973,146 in May and $29,685,529 in June, 1904. Sales for six months are $230,161,746, or an average of $34,126,974 per month, against $35,145,539 in 1904 and $48,727,877 in 1903.

The directors of the American Steel Foundries Company held a meeting in New York yesterday, lasting over two hours. None of the directors would make any statement and referred all inquiries to H. H. Galy, who was authorized, apparently, to act as spokesman. Judge Gary would only state that a financial plan had been agreed on, but the details would not be given out for the present. No further information could therefore be obtained.

It is reported that an influential company will be formed in New York for the purpose of issuing negotiable bonds based on first mortgages on city real estate. The project is based on the belief that land mortgage companies have never had a full and fair trial in this country, and that properly managed they would be as successful as similar institutions have been abroad. The field is a large one, there being six billions of real estate subject to mortgage in the United States, although only a small portion of this property could be available for the cheaper form of company's uses. The proposed bonds would bear 4 per cent interest and an effort will be made to make them popular in the exchanges.

It is said that the Lackawanna Steel Company, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company are specifically excluded from the new international rail pool. These three companies have a rail capacity at present of something less than 500,000 tons a year, but by the beginning of 1906 three will have a capacity of between 700,000 and 800,000 tons a year, which will be an important factor in the trade.

The business of the Bell Telephone Company of Philadelphia for the first five months of 1905 shows a very substantial increase over the same period of 1904. At present, on the basis of five months, operation absorbs about 70 per cent of the gross. For the first five months of 1904 the percentage was about 75 per cent, while for the whole of 1904 it was in the neighborhood of 75 per cent. In other words, the net at the present time shows relatively larger in proportion to the gross than at this time last year or for the whole of 1904.

It was remarked by a prominent trader in a message to his Pittsburgh correspondent: "The advance in Reading seems to be due to the sagacity of stock and manipulation by the Gates crowd and Wasserman. It also looks as though the Gates crowd were buying back the Union Pacific which they sold yesterday at higher prices. The advance has started the shorts to covering. Ulman Brothers have been fairly large buyers of this stock. The sentiment on the floor seems to be that the market is a purchase."

The gross earnings of Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh for the fourth week in June increased $35,414.

The gross earning of Wheeling & Lake Erie for June increased $70,500.

Time loans were firmer in tone and it is probable that consideration of the money outlook had a restraining effect on the New York stock market yesterday. Paris received its tidings of the failure of London market and the sterling rate declined in Paris. The possibility of further export of gold from New York is thus kept open. Receipts on account of Klondike gold are constantly replenishing the New York supply now. It is expected also that the government bonds to be released by the return of government deposits on July 15 will go promptly into use for new issues of bank notes. This would add to the available supply of currency and facilitate an outward movement of gold. The effect of the subscription to the Japanese loan seems to be viewed with more uncertainty. Even where the proceeds for the former loan were left on deposit here the shifting in the loan account caused some temporary disturbance in the money market. Satisfaction is felt over the authoritative information that the withdrawal of the loan proceeds is intended before the last of October. A large proportion of the last Japanese loan remains on deposit in New York and is placed in call loans, so that the Japanese government's handling of its balances might be an important effect on the New York money market.

Edmund C. Lockwood reports that the gross earnings of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greenoure Railway for June were $17,700.75, an increase of $3,538.56 over the same month last year. He also states that on July 4, the road carried 25,500 passengers. Considering this is based on 22 miles of road now operated, the showing is exceedingly good. The connection with Pittsburgh is being rapidly pushed, the material for the six bridges having arrived, and it will only be a short time before the new extension will be in operation.

EAST END PLOT BRINGS $96,000

McCready and Moore Get Logan Holdings in East Liberty in Exchange Deal.

ALLEGHENY SALE OF $60,000

McCready & Moore have bought the Logan buildings at 6358-6396 Penn avenue, East End, for about $96,000, or $800 a front foot. The property is owned by the Logan heirs and is in two parcels. One at 6358-6382, is in the names of Mrs. H. M. Reed and A. L. Bentz, and the other, at 6384-6366, belongs to A. E. Logan. The two lots have a combined frontage of 120 feet on the north side of Penn avenue, directly opposite the old Calvary Protestant Episcopal church at the corner of Stanton street, and run back 200 feet to Shakespeare street. They lie between two alleys. Bentz alley on the west and a narrow alley on the east, so that the holdings form a whole square with four frontages. Six brick houses face in Penn avenue and several old brick buildings are in Shakespeare street. The houses are old and the best of them rent for only $25 a month. On a cash basis the property would be worth considerably less than $800 a front foot, but this transaction was in the nature of an exchange, in which McCready & Moore tendered in part payment the Squirrel Hill frontage which they got two weeks ago from S. M. Willock in exchange for the remainder of their Bradley place holdings. This property consists of 28 lots, 20x100 feet each, facing in Wilkins and Murrayhill avenues, Twenty-second ward. They are part of the County club plan and were taken in by McCready & Moore at a valuation of $40,000. The Penn avenue property, which these men have just secured, is the largest and best located plot on the market so near the new East Liberty station, and when their share goes in the higher values which this improvement is expected to bring to this neighborhood.

Center Avenue House Is Sold.

The residence of E. H. Wills at 4830 Center avenue has been sold to Mrs. N. Swartz for $9,000 cash. The property is on the south side of Center avenue opposite Millvale avenue and the Phillip Flinn residence, and near several fine new houses that have been built on the south part of Bradley place. The lot is 50x190 feet and the house is a reception hall, buff brick dwelling of ten rooms and bath, and the palatial residence of E. P. Speer and the G. K. Stevenson lot, which was bought some time ago for a church site. Mrs. Swartz now lives in Chatham street, and is having the Wills house renovated preparatory to occupying it as a home.

Kammerer Brothers, wholesale produce commission merchants, have bought the property they now occupy at 1728 Penn avenue for $18,500. It belonged to several heirs and the sale was made through the Fidelity Title and Trust company. The lot is 26x100 feet to an alley and the building is the old Methodist Episcopal church, which was provided with a new front two years ago, when Kammerer Brothers moved there from downtown. The sale shows how rapidly values are advancing in this locality, as four years ago this property was sold for only 49,500. The present sale is at the rate of $712 a front foot.

Means a $75,000 Warehouse.

The deal for the property of the Church of New Jerusalem in Allegheny, the pending sale of which was announced in The Gazette last week, has been closed. A. D. Wilson, the Allegheny real estate broker, takes title to the property, but the purchase is made in the interest of a prominent Pittsburgh wholesale dry goods house, the name of which is kept at this time. A survey of the property made last Wednesday shows it has a frontage of 48 feet in Sandusky street and 105 feet in Isabella street, with corresponding frontages in two alleys, in the rear. The exact price is $60,000, which is at the rate of $833 a foot for the Sandusky street frontage, or $8.50 a square foot. The property is opposite the Pittsburgh & Western station and across Sandusky street from the old Eagle power plant, which W. P. Fraser and Walter Cheswright bought some time ago for $150,000. It is an excellent warehouse site, and the firm which will get the deed for it in a few weeks will improve the lot with a six or eight-story brick and steel warehouse, to cost not less than $75,000. This, with the B. P. & W. warehouse near by, will make a notable change in the perspective of this neighborhood. The old frame church building now on the lot is almost a landmark on the North Side, and will be replaced by a modern structure, to cost not less than $40,000, as soon as the congregation selects another site.

Largest Potteries in the Country.

Architect Charles Bickel has a force of draughtsman working on plans for the largest potteries in the United States. They will be built by the North American Manufacturing Company at West Newell, W. Va., directly across the Ohio river from East Liverpool, where this county already has very extensive pottery interests. The buildings at West Newell will cost at least $700,000, and will cover 1,100x700 feet. There will be nine structures in all, including a one-story kiln shed 836 feet long; a one-story glost warehouse of the same length; a flatiron kiln shed, a three-story building, 600 feet long for clay works; a two-story stock house, 166x61 feet; a one-story building, 268x37 feet, for a kiln for decorated ware; a two-story office building, 64 feet square; a five-story brick building, 45x600 feet, for kilns, and a large engine house. Other buildings will be of mill construction. One kiln shed will have 17 kilns and the building for decorated ware will have 20 kilns. The entire plant will be supplied with electric light and steam heat. Bids on the work will be taken about August 1 and it will require at least one year to complete the plant.

Four Expensive Houses for East End.

Four more fine houses are assured for the East End as the result of deals closed recently. Three of them will be built on the Ring property in the Nineteenth ward, Malcolm S. Hargrave, the Water street tobacco merchant, will build a $15,000 residence on 69x149 feet, which he purchased through the office of R. B. King for $7,800, or $125 a front foot. The site is at the corner of Bryant and Cordelia streets. A $10,000 residence will be built in Cordelia street, near Negley avenue, by Mrs. J. C. Houston, at 85x175 feet, which she has purchased through the same agency for $8,100. Joseph G. Vilsack is having plans prepared for a $30,000 house, which he will build at Negley avenue and Bryant street. He bought the site, 124x146 feet, from Mr. King for $7,250, or $58 a foot, for the Negley avenue frontage. No neighborhood in the East End has shown a more rapid development in the way of good buildings the past year than this, and two other deals are now pending which may result in more handsome homes.

The fourth new house referred to will be erected by Mrs. Harriet A. Biggs on 65x200 feet, which she secured yesterday for $10,200 through the office of Corle Brothers. The site faces in Forbes street, near Wightman street, and plans are now being prepared by Architects Verdaman & Wolf, for a $20,000 residence.

Architects Allison & Allison have plans under way for a two-story brick and stone building for the Citizens' National bank of Vendergrift, to cost at least $20,000.

King Frontage Is Now a Lot Plan.

It develops that W. N. Vanisar is the buyer of the George L. King property in East Bellevue, which is reported to have brought $1,600. through the office of J. A. Gibson & Co., in April. It consists of 20 new frame houses facing in North and Tingley avenues and 54 acres of land. A large part of the vacant frontage was laid out last month in 400 lots, 40x125 feet each, which will be sold by Tingley, North, Logan, Oregon, Maryland and Woodland Spring Boulevard plots. These lots will be put on the market at once by J. A. Gibson & Co. at prices from $450 up. They are on the line of the Bellevue-West View car line, on which cars are now running to the bridge over Rest run by the Moon property. Beyond this point is the Jackson property, 50 acres of which is said to be practically sold now to persons connected with the Pittsburgh Railways Company for suburban home sites.

Through the Aronson Realty Company William H. and Alexander Sykes, contractors, have sold to a downtown physician seven brick houses of eight rooms each, for $2,000. These are the recently built by Corle Brothers and stand on a plot facing 125 feet in Morgan street. The total rental is $215 a month and the Aronson Realty Company has been appointed exclusive agents for the property.

John C. Fisher is the buyer of the Biggs property at Craig and Fillmore streets, which was sold a few weeks ago by Corle Bros. and the Real Estate Trust Company for $30,000.

The Aronson-Friedman Company reports the sale of the D. Rosenthal holdings in Fulton street, Eighth ward, to D. O. Ihmsen of Allegheny.

Tannery Property Brings $34,300.

William H. Stoffer yesterday bought the property of the Kiefer Leather Company at McKees Rocks for $34,300 at public sale, which was managed by E. D. Goehring. There are 2.5 acres in the site, on which is erected a large three-story brick building and several smaller structures. Last Thursday the property was duly put on the auction block by Charters Trust Company, receiver, but the bids received were too low to be considered, as a price of $40,000 was anticipated. Mr. Stoffer takes the property for an investment.

The announcement that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will hereafter require its agents to assist upon all property of the company being assessed, will make a big lot of work for the cities, towns and villages through which the lines pass. The new ruling is done to protect the title of the property, as it is often found that lots were sold for nonpayment of taxes when the methods were more lax than at present. Much of the railroad's holdings is in narrow strips and a new assessment at this time will be no small matter. The new method is an innovation which is likely to be followed by other corporations having large realty holdings for there is no more prolific source of defective titles than careless tax paying.

BERRIES ARE CUT FROM MARKET QUOTATIONS

Cherries Also Off the List and Prices Shift Considerably in Green Goods.

That summer days are going fast was evidenced yesterday when the fast went forth along Liberty avenue to cut strawberries and cherries from the quotations. There are none coming in except an occasional shipment of a few crates of each. Neither of those fruits was plentiful this year. Farmers have almost quit tending cherries, for by the time the robins and other birds get through with them there are not many left on a tree and they are hard to pick. Any fellow who ever stood on the limbs of a cherry tree all day or on the rounds of a ladder felt that he had earned a night's rest and something to ease the ache of his feet. So the cultivation of the sour cherries is rapidly becoming an extinct fruit so far as farms in this section are concerned.

Prices shifted some yesterday on fruits and green goods, mostly in favor of the consumer. Huckleberries are abundant and in good shape selling at 12½c a basket and $1 a bucket. Red raspberries are still in bad condition, soft and spoiling. Dealers are disgusted with them and they can be had at buyers' prices. Other berries are holding up well.

Dealers do not believe that good select eggs will go below 17 or 18 cents this summer. Really good eggs are still scarce and are commanding a premium. There are plenty of the doubtful variety. Butter is weak and cheese does not seem overly strong.

Flour and sugar are holding their own with no immediate prospect of change, although there is no big business being done in either. The country season does not seem to have greatly strengthened the sugar market.

GOOD WEATHER BRINGS FRESH WHEAT SLUMP

September Option Is Down Nearly a Cent—Corn Is Unchanged.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 6.—Excellent weather throughout the wheat sections of the United States led to a fresh slump in prices here today. At the close wheat for September delivery was 7c down. Corn is practically unchanged. Oats are 1c off. Provisions show a loss of a shade to 7½c.

The wheat market was weak from the start. At the opening September was down 5@5½c to 84@84c, at 85¾ to 85½c. The factor mainly responsible for the initial weakness was the unfavorable weather conditions. Both northwest and southwest as a contributory influence was a decline in the price of wheat at Liverpool. Selling orders were given additional encouragement by increased movement of new wheat in the southwest. This led to heavy selling of the July option, and there was a sharp decline in the price of that delivery. Other options were depressed materially affected by the early-making in July, decidedly affected by the first hour September had before the end of the first hour September had declined to 82½c. On the break commission houses purchased freely. The buying resulted in a quick upturn, September advancing to 83½@83¾c. The rally was helped by a dual report made by two well-known crop experts estimating the total yield of winter wheat at 370,000,000 bushels to 380,000,000 bushels, whereas the interences from government figures make the yield about 420,000,000 bushels. The market, however, looked any fresh damage reports to give confidence to the bulls, and on that account a reaction soon occurred following repeated liquidation. A prominent long was credited with liberal sales during the last hour of trading. The market closed weak, with September at 82½c, as shown by Bunderscot's, duplicate of the day's trading. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bunderscot's, decreased 1,000,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 542,000 bushels, compared with 210,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 264 cars, against 283 cars and 170 cars a year ago.

Notwithstanding the weakness of wheat, sentiment in the corn pit throughout the entire day was inclined to be bullishness. One of the chief causes for the firm undertone was an improved demand for export. Another influence was extremely light accentuances of bids read out by cash houses. The market received active support from the leading bulls. Shorts also were moderate purchasers. A firm tone prevailed at the close. September opened unchanged to ¼c higher, at 53@53¾c to 53¾c, sold between 54¼@55c and 55¾c, and closed at 55¾c. Local receipts were 604 cars, with 174 cars of contract grade.

Weakness of wheat caused moderate profit-taking in oats, resulting in an easy market. The Kentucky report putting the condition of the crop at 90 per cent against 98 per cent previously opened ¼ to ⅜c lower, influence to 31½c, sold off to 31c and closed at 31¼c. Local receipts were 174 cars.

Provisions were firm at the start as a result of decreased receipts of hogs. The slump in wheat, however, caused some profit-taking in slight losses. At the close September pork was off 7½c, at $12.25. Lard was down 5@7½c at $7.25. Ribs were a shade lower, at $7.77½@7.80.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 21 cars; corn, 374 cars; oats, 119 cars; hogs 14,000 head.

Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies of grain as compared with the last report: Wheat—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased 1,805,000 bushels; total supply, decreased 798,000 bushels. Corn—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 2,190,000 bushels. Oats—United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decreased, 114,000 bushels. The Bradstreet visible supply of wheat, July 1, 25,400 bushels in Manitoba, 125,000 bushels in Goderich, Ont.; 22,500 bushels at Portland, Me.; 35,000 bushels at depot brothers and 71,000 bushels at the Chicago private elevators. Stocks held at Fort Huron increased 10,000 bushels. The decrease noted at Goderich, Ont., is due largely to the burning of an elevator there on July 4.

Indications Point to Big Gas Supply for the Coming Winter

A very large percentage of the recent completions in the lower southwest fields are credited to the various gas companies. Nearly all of the companies operating in West Virginia are meeting with good success, and the indications for a bountiful supply of gas for the coming winter are promising. It is hoped that some one or more of these companies would have made an oil discovery before so much of the year had expired, but they have not been successful to any appreciable degree.

At Fremansburg, Lewis county, the Reserve Gas Company has drilled its second test on the R. H. Hall farm through the fifth sand and has a good gasser. Near Sardis, Harrison county, the Philadelphia Company has completed its test on the D. L. Ash farm and has a good gasser in the Gordon. Near Fairview, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the Anna Harvey farm through the fifth sand and has a good gasser. The same company's No. 4 on the Haught-Walker farm is producing 15 barrels of oil per day from the fifth sand. It was put to pumping early in the week.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn company has drilled its second test on the M. D. Queen farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 100 feet with fluid. It will be given a shot and will make a light pumper. The same company's test on the Jasmine Sandy farm is showing for the same kind of a pumper and will be shot. In the Wallace district the South Penn company has drilled No. 3 on the Elsie Lambert farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 50 feet with fluid. Unless a shot helps it will make a small pumper. In the Folsom district the South Penn company's No. 3 on the M. F. Dye farm is producing 40 barrels a day. In the same district the South Penn company's No. 7 on the J. Price farm is holding up at 115 barrels a day. In the Bonds Creek district, Ritchie county, Hall, Gold & Zahniser have completed No. 5 on the Joseph McGregor farm and have a show for a producer, good for 30 barrels a day or better from the Keener sand. This well is located in old territory and the size is an agreeable surprise.

In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, C. C. Lockhart has drilled his second test on the Lockhart-Underwood farm through the Big Injun and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper, at a depth of 1,245 feet. In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the Reese-Camden farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a 10 or 12-barrel pumper in that formation.

On the Ohio side operators are drilling some of the old wells, no longer profitable producers in the upper sands, to lower formations and in some instances the results are quite satisfactory. In the Mackeburg field in Washington county Ripley Bros. have drilled their No. 2, an old well on the Lilly Ripley farm, from the Buells Run sand to the stray below the 800-foot sand and have a 50-barrel producer. The same parties will drill other old wells in the district to the stray deeper. T. Stephens has drilled his No. 17 on the James Dixon farm into the stray below the 800-foot sand and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper. Allen Chaplean & Co. have drilled their No. 12 on the George Hess farm into the Buells Run sand and have a show for a light pumper.

In the Wolf Creek district the Pure Oil Producing Company has completed No. 25 on the B. H. Harris farm through the fifth sand and has a good gasser. The same company has completed its test on the D. L. Ash farm and has a good gasser in the Gordon. Near Fairview, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the Anna Harvey farm through the fifth sand and has a good gasser. The same company's No. 4 on the Haught-Walker farm is producing 15 barrels of oil per day from the fifth sand. It was put to pumping early in the week.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn company has drilled its second test on the M. D. Queen farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 100 feet with fluid. It will be given a shot and will make a light pumper. The same company's test on the Jasmine Sandy farm is showing for the same kind of a pumper and will be shot. In the Wallace district

NEW SURVEY FOR GOULD LINE SOUTH

Route Is from Near Castle Shannon to Greene County East of the Old Project.

SOME CHANGES IN ALLEGHENY

Complications of the Gould-Ramsey affairs seem to come with new phases every day. In The Gazette yesterday was noted the proposition of the Ramsey-Patterson interests for a railroad from Lorain to Ashland, O., with a probable extension from Ashland southward to a connection with the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland railroad, thus getting into the rich West Virginia coal fields by way of the Little Kanawha. It was learned yesterday that a survey has just been completed for a Wabash line from near Castle Shannon southward through Allegheny county and across the eastern end of Washington county to Clarksville, Greene county. While it is said that this extension is intended primarily for reaching valuable coal and coke properties, it appears to be a method of solving the predicament presented to the Gould interests by the Little Kanawha syndicate in demanding more than the Gould interests want to pay for the projected "Greene county line" and the Buckhannon & Northern railroad to a connection with the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railway at Belington.

The survey to Clarksville passes through a portion of Southwestern Pennsylvania that is reached by no other road. It is a new route from that surveyed by the West Side Belt a year ago. The survey crosses the Baltimore & Ohio in the vicinity of Finleyville and Venetia, and touches upon or near the Monongahela & Washington road, a small branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. It was officially stated yesterday that it is expected the Castle Shannon-Clarksville line will be started this year.

The survey for this line leaves the West Side Belt road about a mile and a half east of Castle Shannon at the Woods farm, which is owned by the Wabash system, and which is to be made into a large gravity yard. It is at this point that the connecting line to the United States Steel Corporation plants leaves the West Side Belt road on the east. It is expected that the Wabash half of the eight-mile steel line connection will be completed by November 1, while the steel company's half will also be ready by the same date.

Changes in Allegheny Plant.

The Allegheny shop plant of the Pennsylvania Company is undergoing a complete change. This became necessary when the company began the change of the grade for the main tracks through Allegheny. Along the vicinity of the old roundhouse the cut will reach about 10 feet below the present grade, in connection with the change at the plant. Four new buildings will be erected, three of which are now under way. It is expected that these will be completed before winter.

The small passenger engine house and the larger freight house near the present main tracks of the Ft. Wayne are being torn down. These will give place to a new 44-stall engine house at the east side of the company's property near Pennsylvania avenue. This will be a brick and steel structure of the most modern type, with ample provisions for ventilation and repair work. The building will be of circular form. A new brass foundry building is nearing completion adjacent to Pennsylvania avenue. This is of the same size as the old foundry building, but there will be more furnaces and a larger capacity for the work. North of the engine house, which adjoins the brass foundry on the north, will be located the big power plant. The oil house will be built in the same part of the property. There will be no change in the machine, paint or erecting shop buildings, excepting the use of electric power.

The whole equipment for the new roundhouse and other buildings will be of the most modern type. The roundhouse itself, with its provisions for hot and cold air and its other facilities, will rank second to none in the country. The Pennsylvania Company officials visited several of the more notable shop plants and are making use of the best ideas secured. The power house will have three 500 horse-power engines, which will operate large dynamos to furnish electric power and light for the whole shop plant.

The excavation work for the change of grade through West Park and on down through the Pennsylvania Company's yard and shop property is going ahead rapidly. From the start just in front of the Ft. Wayne station the excavating has been made for two tracks, while a similar canal extends from Pennsylvania avenue to a point opposite Fulton street, where the cut ends with the present grade. Temporary overhead bridges for the thoroughfare traffic over North avenue, Pennsylvania avenue and Washington street probably will be completed earlier next week, when the excavating will be extended through the whole distance and tracks will be laid for the main line. In the vicinity of the freight yard and the shops the number of tracks will be enlarged. The removal of the old engine houses will give room for additional tracks for the repair yard at the shops.

Change of Pennsylvania Special.

A readjustment of the schedule of the Pennsylvania special, the 18-hour train, will be made July 9. This change will not affect the time of the fast train at either New York or Chicago. The readjustment is made to ease the running time over certain points and accelerate it at others, principally to give easier riding for the dining car at the eastern end of the runs. The dining car which runs into and out of Chicago will be attached and detached at Alliance instead of Crestline, as at present, in order to give longer time for breakfast and dinner. The east-bound train will arrive in Pittsburgh 10 minutes earlier than now and the west-bound train 10 minutes later. This will bring the passing of the trains practically into the Union station at 12:40. The Manhattan limited will be changed to reach Pittsburgh 10 minutes later. This will be the only change of trains aside from the special in Pittsburgh. There will be a number of minor changes at either end of the 395-mile run.

Frutchey in Temporary Charge.

M. P. Frutchey, traveling freight agent of the Rock Island-Frisco system in this district, has been designated by the higher officials of the two companies to take charge of the freight department in Pittsburgh, pending the appointment of a successor to the late Daniel H. Maloney for this department. No announcement has been made in regard to the passenger department affairs. It is the intention, and was suggested to Mr. Maloney several weeks ago to lighten his arduous duties, to have a district passenger agent appointed to have full charge of the passenger department affairs here, the freight business having reached such proportions as to demand the head of that traffic to attend to nothing else. The appointments to both positions will probably be announced in a couple of days.

Pooling of Cars Is Begun.

The freight car repair pool of the New York Central lines began operating July 1. While no results are noticed in a manner different to former repair work on the lines, the matter will be noticeable at the end of the months when an inter-accounting and adjustment will be made, instead of rendering bills for the repairs, as each road has been required to do under the M. C. B. rules. The motive power and accounting departments are most directly concerned in the pool. Any car of any of these roads needing repairs upon arrival on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, or any other of the score of New York Central line's roads is repaired by such road. The repairs extend over all cars of the New York Central lines and controlled roads excepting leased cars.

Jackson Is Slated for Cashier.

While no announcement has been made it is understood in higher Pennsylvania lines official circles that William Jackson, chief clerk of the treasury department of the lines, will be elected cashier as successor to the late John H. Frederick, whose funeral took place Wednesday. Mr. Jackson has been filling the position since Mr. Frederick's illness began and he is considered in every way fitted for the place. It is probable that this recommendation will be made by Treasurer T. H. B. McKnight and Fourth Vice President Edward B. Taylor to the board of directors, which body elects the executive officers of the company.

Railroad Notes.

The contract has been let for the Pennsylvania station at Trafford City.

James Joyce, Cleveland & Pittsburgh division passenger conductor, is enjoying a vacation along the lakes, and W. R. Couse is filling his run.

J. R. Carter, president of the Lake Erie & Pittsburgh, says that construction of the Pittsburgh end of the line will be begun next month.

J. F. Murphy, agent of the Nickle Plate fast freight line in the Toledo territory, is here looking after business and mingling with the "boys."

Medical examiners of the Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia & Reading railroad relief departments have been appointed special medical inspectors in the state department of health for these railroads.

Charles Hall, assistant general freight agent of the Rock Island-Frisco system, was a Pittsburgh visitor yesterday, having come down from the Maloney funeral at Cleveland. He will return to St. Louis today.

The coal and coke shipments of the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Erie and Pittsburgh for the week ended July 1 amounted to 900,327 tons. For the year to July 1, as compared with the same period last year the tonnage increase was 1,834,551.

The headquarters of the fifth division of the railway mail service will be removed on or before August 1 from Mansfield to Crestline, O., affecting about 300 mail clerks on 11 railroad divisions. About 200 of these are affected on the Pennsylvania lines. The headquarters were removed from Crestline to Mansfield about eight years ago and efforts have been made often since to have the return made.

GALLAGHER'S OLD REVOLVER SCARED ITALIAN WORKMEN

A man giving his name as Ed Gallagher and his home as Baltimore, approached a gang of Baltimore & Ohio section hands near Hays borough yesterday morning and flourishing a revolver, ordered them to disperse. The workmen, most of whom were Italians, were frightened and ran. F. A. Pelley, a telegraph operator, telephoned to the police and an officer arrested the man. He had been drinking and his revolver was an antiquated one. Gallagher received a hearing before Burgess Guthrie and was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse.

Will Spend $900,000 for Airbrakes.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has issued orders that all serviceable freight cars not already equipped with air brakes shall be equipped therewith immediately. There are about 15,000 on the system without air brakes, and it is estimated that it will cost about $900,000 to carry out the order to equip these cars.

ERIE BUSINESS MEN HERE ON A MISSION

They Urge That Their City Be Made the Lake Terminus of the Proposed Canal.

A joint committee representing the Erie chamber of commerce and the Erie board of trade came to Pittsburgh yesterday in the interest of a movement to have Erie selected as the lake entrance of the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship canal. Former Judge Frank Gunnison, H. E. Fish, a leading attorney, and former Mayor William Hardwick, president of the Union Iron works, represented the board of trade. The chamber of commerce sent its president, A. B. Osborne; Robert J. Moorhead, president of the Security Trust and Savings company, and Frank Wallace, president of the Second National bank and treasurer of the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

The visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Union club by some of the directors of the canal company and afterward a meeting was held at the office of John E. Shaw, its president. The Erie people wanted to know the route and terminals of the canal. In brief speeches they evinced the strongest interest in the canal and said that the people of Erie wanted to do all in their power to aid in the construction of the canal.

They wanted to know what objections might be made to selecting Erie as the lake terminus, and said they would like to have an opportunity to demonstrate what advantages that city had to offer. Each of the visitors expressed his views, while E. J. Lloyd, John E. Shaw, Emil Swenson and James W. Wardrop spoke for the canal company.

The joint committee invited the directors and engineers of the canal company to visit Erie sometime in September, and the invitation was accepted by a unanimous vote.

MRS. ROSE BREITENREITER ANSWERS DR. CAMPBELL

Wealthy McKeesport Widow Says Bad Character of the Osteopath Occasioned Her Refusal, Causing Breach of Promise Suit.

In her bill of particulars answering the suit for $25,000 damages for breach of promise entered by Dr. Campbell, Mrs. Rose Breitenreiter of 919 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, gives her reasons for her refusal to wed the doctor.

The answer was filed Saturday in common pleas court No. 2 by Fife & Douglas, attorneys for Mrs. Breitenreiter. The answer not only denies that she promised to marry Dr. Campbell on May 4, 1904, but states that no wedding date was ever fixed. Continuing the answer says:

The defendant alleges that the financial condition of the plaintiff has been and is such that from the time of the defendant's promise to marry the plaintiff until the present time, the plaintiff could not properly provide for and maintain the defendant as his wife, having no fixed income and at no time since the defendant's alleged promise to marry has the plaintiff had a sufficient income nor earned enough to properly support the defendant as his wife. That since the time of the defendant's alleged promise of marriage to the plaintiff the defendant has discovered that the plaintiff is a man of violent temper; that on several occasions the plaintiff had sworn at the defendant and called her vile names, and had threatened her life and to do her bodily injury, so that the defendant was in fear of bodily injury at the hands of the plaintiff to such an extent that she could not consider it safe to marry the plaintiff; that the plaintiff's conduct toward the defendant since the time of the alleged promise of marriage had been such as to cause the defendant to fear that if the marriage was consummated her married life would be such as to render her condition intolerable and her life burdensome by reason of what she would have to undergo at the hands of the plaintiff. That since the alleged promise of the defendant to marry the plaintiff the defendant has learned that the plaintiff was a man of dissolute habits, a loafer and a heavy drinker, and a man who had been accustomed to associate with women of disreputable character, and the defendant has learned since the alleged promise to marry the plaintiff that the plaintiff has continued in such habits and has been associated with women of disreputable character.

The defendant further alleges that the plaintiff has been previously married, and since the defendant's alleged promise to marry the plaintiff the defendant had learned that the plaintiff deserted his wife without just cause or reason; that on account of the past history of the plaintiff and his conduct both before and after the alleged promise of the defendant to marry the plaintiff, and by reason of the inability to properly support, maintain and provide for the defendant as his wife the defendant does not deem the plaintiff a proper and fit person for her to marry.

Dr. Campbell came to McKeesport from Cleveland, O., about two years ago and was one of several roomers at the home of Mrs. Breitenreiter. He is an exponent of osteopathy and practices in McKeesport and surrounding towns.

Mrs. Breitenreiter is a sister of Henry Hartman of McKeesport, and is reputed to be wealthy. The Hartmans are pioneer residents of McKeesport and well known and respected. Mrs. Breitenreiter has four grown children. Her husband has been dead for several years. Mrs. Breitenreiter is said to be 45 years of age, and Campbell is about the same age.

BLANK CARTRIDGE BURNS SUPERINTENDENT GLENN

John Glenn, acting superintendent of police of Allegheny, had his neck slightly burned by the explosion of a blank cartridge, while a young man received a severe injury to the index finger of his left hand. Jesse H. Sheasley, a common councilman from the First ward, called at Glenn's office with two young men named Kirkwood and Bennett to get revolvers the police had taken from them on the Fourth of July for firing blank cartridges in the street and parks. Glenn laid a lot of revolvers on his desk and told the men to pick out their pistols. One of them picked up a revolver, and as Glenn leaned over to get more out of a drawer in his desk the man snapped the trigger and the cartridge exploded. Both fled without their revolvers.

RODGERS GETS INTO TROUBLE WITH EASE

Youth Who Entered Stolen Horse in White Hall Races Is Again Behind Bars.

After being at liberty for a few hours yesterday evening Bernard Rodgers, aged 18, who is charged with stealing a race horse from Jacob Levason of Morgan street, South Side, and entering him in the White Hall races as an unknown on the Fourth of July, is again behind the bars at No. 7 police station. Rodgers was arrested Tuesday night after trying to sell the race horse, which he had given the name of Lannon.

Rodgers was given a hearing before the South Side magistrate late yesterday afternoon and held for trial at court in $50 bail. The young man's mother, Mrs. Mary Rodgers, realized her son would have a long wait in the county jail until his case was called for trial and in view of the fact that he had only recently finished a term of two months at the workhouse, she went on his bond.

As soon as Rodgers was released from custody he went straight to Morgan street to look for trouble, with the result that he is again in the police station, having been arrested at 9:30 o'clock last night on a charge of surety of the peace. Shortly after Rodgers had been released Levason appeared at the station house, short of breath and in great fear. He declared Rodgers had threatened to shoot him and that he had greatly agitated the residents of Morgan street. Levason swore out a warrant for his arrest and Rodgers soon again occupied a cell.

WANT A BRIDGE BUILT ACROSS THE OHIO RIVER

The McKees Rocks-Inner Allegheny bridge proposition is again being agitated in McKees Rocks and Ingles. About a month ago a meeting of merchants of McKees Rocks and of Allegheny was held at which plans were discussed for pushing the work. A company secured a charter to build a bridge across the river several years ago, and if enough interest can be aroused in Allegheny, this charter might be used.
